WALMSLEY IS WELL AHEAD IN MAYOR RACE

New Orleans Chief Executive, Seeking Reelection, Has Substantial Lead Over John Klorer, Candidate of "Kingfish," as Counting of Ballots Proceeds.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24—(AP)—Official tabulation of returns from yesterday's mayoralty primary, with only 24 of the city's 262 boxes not included, this afternoon maintained the commanding lead of Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, with the Long candidate, John Klorer, 15,000 votes behind in second place and Francis Williams, independent, third.

The returns from 238 precincts showed: Walmsley, 42,674; Klorer, 27,636; Williams, 23,795; and Herbert Homes, independent., 433.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan 24—(AP)—Senator Huey P Long's political machine today had apparently met its first major defeat at the polls in six years, as unofficial and incomplete returns from yesterday's mayoralty primary continued to send the Walmsley old regular faction far out in front in a four-cornered race for city hall control

The Long candidate for mayor, John Klorer, was running more than 14,000 votes behind Mayor T Semmes Walmsley on the face of returns from 240 of the city's 262 precincts, but Klorer headquarters and Senator Long continued to withhold a statement on whether the issue would be forced into a second runoff primary

The Walmsley total at 9 a m. was some 9,000 votes short of a clear nominating majority over his three opponents When the weary polling commissioners, up all night, suspended counting this morning to

CLAIMS CLIQUE CONTROLS WORK

Attorney Charges PWA Construction Let to Those Inside.

OSCEOLA, Neb., Jan 24—(AP)—Charges that a clique had gained control of PWA construction in Nebraska were hurled in district court here today as a mandamus action of the Lincoln Steel works went to trial against the village trustees and clerk of Polk

The steel firm sought to compel award to it of a contract for construction of a water standpipe under a $16,000 PWA water improvement project and charged the contract had been given the Omaha Steel works although the latter's bid was $7 higher.

The case went to trial after District Judge L S Hastings of David City overruled a motion to dismiss on the ground town boards under state laws could exercise discretion on bids

Frank Sheehan of Omaha, attorney for the Lincoln Steel works in his opening statement said the principle of fair play and free bidding was of much importance He charged a clique had gained control of PWA construction in this state

H H Henningson, Omaha engineer who was advisory engineer on the project for the town of Polk testified as to details of the bidding and under questioning by Sheehan said that in some way the Lincoln firm's bid had been returned The Lincoln company charged its bid had been returned unopened and thus had not even been received by the board

R J Allison village clerk said no plans and specifications had been filed by the Lincoln Steel works

Second Roca Quarry Shift Resumes Schedule

By virtue of the ruling from CWA headquarters that men on Lancaster county projects working in rural areas may work 24 hours instead of 15 hours a week County Engineer L W Weaver said Wednesday that the second shift at the Roca rock quarry will report to work Friday as has been the custom in the past The men had been notified not to come to work until Saturday under the 15-hour week ruling

St. Paul Banker, Kidnaped Week Ago, Still Held Captive.

FLOOD OF RUMORS DECLARED UNTRUE

Father of Victim and Magee Deny Second Note Received.

ST PAUL, Jan. 24—(AP)—Edward C. Bremer, wealthy St Paul banker, another victim of the kidnaping racket, was still a prisoner of an unidentified gang that held him captive today at an unlocated hideout

It was the one salient fact gleaming through the murk of erroneous rumors that the 37-year-old son of Adolph Bremer, had been slain and found dead, and that he had been freed unharmed after payment of $200,000 ransom

Out of the myriad of statements contradictions and "guesses," were two persistent reports that could not be harmonized with confidences uttered by well authenticated sources

One was the forecast of close friends of the family that the banker would be freed soon The other was a report that the elder Bremer had received a second note from the gang conveying to him instructions for paying the ransom

Yet the principal owner of the Jacob Schmidt Brewing Co, and a personal friend of President Roosevelt insisted no further contact with the mob had been had

New Yorker's Sons Won't Use Barrow, Offers It To County

From New Rochelle, N Y., comes a somewhat belated offer to help with Lincoln's CWA program

In a letter received by County Engineer L W Weaver Wednesday William W Simonds of Wykagyl gardens New Rochelle writes

It was reported in a New York paper today January 20 that due to the increased civil works campaign you are unable to buy a single wheelbarrow at any of the supply houses

"I'm not in the wheelbarrow business but in my back yard I have a very nice one that my sons will have absolutely nothing to do with. I'll paint it red white and blue and sell it cheap for cash Can I get an offer?"

County Engineer Weaver said he has received clippings from all parts of the country carrying accounts of his statement made here early in the CWA campaign regarding the difficulty of getting wheelbarrows

Since Weaver's story first went out on the wires new shipments of wheelbarrows have been received here and the scarcity no longer exists, the engineer said.

Tribute Paid Miss Badger For Life Of Unselfish Service To City Schools

Funeral for Assistant to Superintendent First Ever Held in Lincoln High School Hundreds Mourn Accident Victim.

Eulogizing her modesty and her years of earnest service, a throng of friends paid tribute Wednesday afternoon at the last rites for Miss Anna R. Badger, for 43 years assistant to school superintendents in Lincoln, who died Saturday of injuries suffered in an auto accident. The services were held at the Lincoln high school auditorium, the first time that a funeral has ever been held in that building

Flowers from hundreds of friends banked the casket and the platform. All schools were closed out of respect to Miss Badger's memory. The Calvary Lutheran parochial school closed also Wednesday afternoon for the funeral

Rev. Bush Preaches.

Rev. Merchant S. Bush, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of which Miss Badger was a member, preached the funeral sermon "Doubtless Miss Badger wonders at this thronging crowd and this public service," Rev. Bush said. "She would not have permitted it But her friends do for her today what she would not let them do in the days of her life. We are in this building because it typifies her life of service in our schools and also because it best accommodates the many who by their presence express their gratitude for her life "

He pointed out that Miss Badger and her sister joined the Second Presbyterian church on September 26, 1889, only five months after the church was organized. That was two years before she began her service in the schools "She was sincere, earnest, loyal true and lived in all humility and did her work in meekness This," Rev. Bush concluded, "was Anna R Badger "

Rev. Bush pointed out also the hundreds of small services she performed He mentioned a university woman who told him that she always took her problems to Miss Badger. "I do not know who I shall go to for answers to my questions now," she said.

Praised By Bailey.

Dr. B. F. Bailey, president of the board of education which attended in a body, said, "No hero

WOODS ACCEPTS BANK POSITION

Appointed Vice-President Reorganized Bank In Council Bluffs.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Jan 24—(AP)—George W Woods assistant superintendent of the Nebraska state banking department at Lincoln, has accepted an appointment as executive vice president of the reorganized First National bank here He conferred with other officers here today.

GEORGE W. WOODS.

Reopening of the bank is expected to be announced shortly, on the completion of certain technical transactions with the RFC.

Former Banker Here.

Mr Woods was formerly cashier of the old Lincoln National Bank & Trust Co., which went out of business following the famous million-dollar holdup in September, 1930. Several months prior to that event, he severed his connection with the bank to accept appointment as state bank commissioner under the Weaver administration In the latter capacity he supervised the administration of failed state banks. The legislature of 1933 abolished the office of bank commissioner and since last April he has been serving with the title of assistant of banking under E H. Luikart, state bank superintendent.

The salary of Mr. Woods as bank commissioner was originally fixed at $7,500 a year, but under successive gubernatorial and legislative edicts the pay was cut down to $3 500 which it now is

Before he entered the banking business in Lincoln, Mr Woods for a number of years was manager of the R G Dun financial agency here, now Dun's and Bradstreet's

Merle Foster, who has been head of the state bank examining force for some years is slated to succeed Woods as assistant bank superintendent Foster's place will be taken by J. F McLean, senior examiner.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—While senate independents sought today to strengthen the inflationary provisions of the administration money bill, Senator Glass, veteran Virginia democrat, denounced the devaluation of the dollar as an "invalid and indecent process."

Administration leaders, meanwhile, accepted amendments to limit to three years the life of the proposed $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the time within which President Roosevelt might devalue the gold content of the dollar.

Senator Borah, republican, said he was convinced there was no mandatory currency expansion provided in the original bill

"We are considering whether or not to provide for the mandatory issuance of currency based upon the surplus gold resulting from devaluation," Borah said, referring to independents.

On this basis it was estimated an expansion of new money of about $5,000,000 000 would result

The Glass attack had been awaited, although he voted for the bill as a whole in committee yesterday after succeeding in having it amended essentially.

WASHINGTON, Jan 24—(AP)—President Roosevelt sent word to congressional leaders today that he was willing to accept a time limitation on his monetary legislation, but urged rejection of the proposal to have a board administer the huge stabilization fund

The chief executive's decision was passed along to his lieutenants on Capitol hill as the senate began consideratoin of the money bill.

One of the chief objections raised against the monetary bill was that it was permanent, rather than temporary legislation, and should therefore receive more thorough consideration

Republicans, together with democrats, were determined, however, to continue their battle for management of the $2,000,000 000 stabilization fund by a board of five rather

CHICAGO, Jan 24—(AP)—Police searching for the slayers of William J (Three-Fingered Jack) White, public enemy, today ordered the arrest of William (Klondyke) O'Donnell gang leader of suburban Cicero, and his pal, Joe Chernik

Fear that White had "squealed" to government men was advanced as the most likely motive for the slaying of the ex-convict in his apartment at Suburban Oak Park last night At the federal building today it was learned that Oliver Kempster, a state highway policeman assigned to the office of the federal bureau of investigation had gone to White's apartment late yesterday to seek information.

Kempster and James (Red) Hartin another federal agent admitted being at the apartment before the shooting They were at first seized by police as suspects themselves, un-

Construction in January Shows Large Increase

NEW YORK, Jan 24—(AP)—L. Seth Schnitmann, chief statistician for F. W. Dodge corporation, today reported an indicated wide spread construction improvement throughout the country with contracts for the first half of January exceeding those of the full month of January 1933.

Schnitmann reported a total volume of $101,910,300 for January 1 to 15 in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains The total for the same territory for the full month of January, 1933, was only $83,356 000

Dodge reports do not cover the territory west of the Rocky mountains

All but four of the 13 Dodge districts Schnitmann said, show the improvement

Comparing the first half of January this year with the same period of last year Dodge reports show residential building 50 per cent ahead non-residential building two and a half times as great and utilities building three times as great.

INSULL APPEAL IS REJECTED BY ATHENS COUNCIL

Fallen Utilities King Must Seek New Refuge At End of Month.

ATHENS, Jan. 24—(AP)— The Supreme state council rejected Samuel Insull's appeal today and thus placed the official stamp of legality upon the government's order that he must seek another refuge at the end of this month.

The council ordered the former Chicago utilities operator to pay the costs of the proceedings.

Insull appealed after the minister of the interior refused to extend his residence permit beyond January 31 and thus enable him to continue evading extradition to the United States by remaining in his Athenian retreat.

Twice before, Greek courts had held in Insull's favor in cases through which the United States sought his extradition to face charges of larceny, embezzlement and violation of bankruptcy laws.

The formal announcement said today that the minister of the interior's decision constituted in itself an administrative act and therefore was a matter which could be dealt with by the council.

It was added, however, that the evidence before the council plainly showed the decision had had the consequence of influencing Greece's foreign relationships and therefore the matter became a governmental and not an administrative act.

Expulsion Certain.

Police Director Vavouris declared after the decision had been announced today that "rejection of the appeal by the state council makes it definite that Insull will be expelled at any price after the expiration of his sojourn permit.

"The question of health must be regulated by the minister of the interior, who is the only person competent in this matter."

Previously, commenting on the illness which has kept Insull confined to his richly-furnished apartment for weeks, government authorities were reported to have declared no spcial consideration would be shown on this account.

One authority was quoted as saying Insull would be expelled even if he had to be carried out of Greece on a stretcher.

Insull refused to grant any interviews, attendants giving as the reason he was confined to his bed.

Turkey Raises Bar.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Jan. 24—(AP)—Turkish diplomats warned today that Samuel Insull's passport would not be visaed if he should apply for permission to enter Turkey after he leaves Greece.

It was understood the warning was issued due to a desire to avoid possible complications with the United States in regard to the new extradition treaty which has yet to be ratified.

Ann Murphy Struck By Car; Not Badly Hurt

Miss Ann Murphy, 1442 Northside avenue, suffered bruises to her right arm when she was hit by a car driven by Harry Travlinsky, 137 South Eighteenth street, shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday evening at the intersection of Sixteenth and R streets, according to police.

Police were told that she was walking across R street on the west side of Sixteenth street as Travlinsky was driving west. She had been watching another car, and started to run shortly before she was hit by the left front bumper of the Travlinsky machine.

She was taken home and treated by Dr. I. O. Munger, jr.

Mrs. Hoover, Mother Of Mrs. Mengel, Dies

Mrs. Ida Mae Hoover of Agnew, mother of Mrs. L. D. Mengel, wife of Sheriff L. D. Mengel of Wahoo, died at a hosptial here early Tuesday evening. She was 65 years of age and had been a resident of Agnew for the past 46 years.

Fog For Everybody

LONDON, Jan. 24—(AP)—There was fog to suit the taste of almost anybody in mist-bathed London today.

Variegated samples—ranging from dirty white to murky yellow and black—overhung the city and its outer districts.

In some places, the blackout disorganized tram, bus and rail service and necessitated institution of fog signalling devices.

Many escorts with flares led motor cars and other vehicles along the roads where visibility often was only six feet.

Had There Been No Roosevelt

The Elephants and Big Boy

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Washington reports that the President will ask Congress for an emergency appropriation of 1,666 million dollars to carry the civil works administration, civilian conservation corps, and direct federal relief. He hopes "to taper off the civil works program and wind it up in May."

Every Keeley cure and sanitarium for drug addiction will tell you that "tapering off" is difficult, uncertain work, but if, as announced, the President is "determined to keep the amount within the limits announced in his message to Congress, he will do it. His hope is that in a short time four million men now on the government payroll will find normal, outdoor work."

You may sympathize with President Roosevelt for one reason. He will never be able to learn on this earth, although the judgment day may reveal it to him, just how much he has done for the United States. He can never tell what would have happened if he had NOT appeared upon the scene, taking action immediately, scattering jobs and money, setting a precedent aside, ignoring highly organized finance that, in all sincerity, thinks itself the only divinely chosen trustee and manager of the United States government.

He found twelve million men idle, and many of them in ugly mood. What would have happened if he had not poured out billions of dollars, creating millions of jobs, and taken from the highways an army of wandering young men and boys that might easily have formed dangerous marauding bandit gangs?

Bob Brady, nicknamed "Big Boy," desperado, and frequent jail breaker, escaped for the last time with three fellow convicts. Cornered by the sheriff, with a posse of national guardsmen and others heavily armed, "Big Boy" shouted: "Come on, boys, let's fight!" drew a sawed-off shotgun from under his coat, and went at the 40 men while his three friends threw up their hands. "Big Boy" is dead, full of bullets. The public is glad, and that ends him.

If in "No Man's Land," "Big Boy," with only three comrades, had dashed at 40 well armed Germans, crying: "Let's fight!" he would be one of a million minor heroes. It all depends on the motive.

This column said more than twenty years ago, and has often said since, that around-the-world transportation in the future will operate as follows.

Gigantic airships, sailing at least six miles above the earth where there are no clouds or wind, will sail round and round, dropping passengers at New York, Paris, Tokio, Peking, in small swift planes that will land them at their destination and rejoin the big ships.

Some called that fanciful, "imagination."

Now the Waco Aircraft Corporation has received contracts to build two planes to be attached to the dirigible Macon, "to permit landing of passengers while the dirigible is in the air," instead of bringing the huge airship down to land groups of passengers.

ESTIMATE STATE JOBLESS 25,000

Hodge Declares 40,000 Given Employment Since September.

Unemployment in Nebraska is estimated by George Hodge, federal and state employment director, to have been reduced to about 25,000 persons still actually jobless on January 15, from the figure of 60,000 last September.

Total registrations on unemployment lists during the last six months mounted to 105,000, but fully 40,000 of these, Hodge thinks, were people who were already working at least part time but wished to get better paying jobs or at least to assure themselves of something to do in case their employment failed to continue.

Of the 65,000 who were jobless, 40,000 have been provided with work, through the civil works program, highway construction, river improvement, federal public works projects, and placements in private employment.

Mrs. John Bintz Dies While Visiting on Coast; Lived Here 25 Years

Mrs. John Bintz, 73, mother of A. C. Bintz, commercial agent for the Burlington here, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon while visiting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. E. C. Diehl, Santa Ana, Cal., according to word received Tuesday evening by Mr. Bintz.

Mrs. Bintz, who had been visiting on the coast with her husband for the past few weeks, was a former Lincoln resident. They lived here until a year ago, when they moved to Muskogee, Okla., after coming to Lincoln from Cortland in 1908.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Bintz is survived by six children, including: Mrs. E. C. Diehl, Santa Ana, Cal.; Mrs. H. D. Helwig, Philadelphia, Pa.; J. C. Bintz, Hettinger, N. D.; H. E. Bintz, Omaha; W. O. Bintz, Neola, Ia., and A. C. Bintz of Lincoln.

The body will be taken to Muskogee for short services, and will then be brought to Lincoln for final services and interment. Mr. Bintz will go to Muskogee to accompany the body to Lincoln.

MRS. ANNA HANSON DIES

Mrs. Anna J. Hanson, 39, a Lincoln beauty operator for the past several years, and a resident of Bennet the greater part of her life died at a local hospital at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. Besides a daughter, June, and her father Howard Monk, both of Bennet, she is survived by a brother Charles of Bennet; and three sisters, Mrs. Henry Stolle of Bennet, Mrs. N. H. Moore of Grand Island, and Mrs. W. H. Hughes of Niobrara. The body is at Brown's.

LOYALTY DRIVE PLANS OUTLINED

800 Hear Dr. Dowey Tell Need Revitalizing Church Spirit.

Sixty-five Lincoln and outstate churches were pledged Tuesday night to whole-hearted support of the church loyalty crusade, which is to be carried on between February 25 and April 8. Representatives held a dinner meeting at Trinity M. E. church, at which Dr. George G. Dowey of Philadelphia explained the plans for the drive. Nearly 800 attended the meeting.

"The church must stop beating around the bush," Dr. Dowey said, "and get out and assert itself as a definite institution, not only for personal good but for community good. The church is de-emphasized now. In some communities, the pastor could close up the church, pack his bag and leave town and no one would even notice it. That is the state in the church today!"

Must Revitalize Spirit.

"Our job is, and must be," Dr. Dowey continued, "to revitalize the spirit of the church. We must get people to talking about the church. If we do that, I believe that a great spiritual revival is imminent!"

Dr. Dowey said that there were three pressing problems which the church must correct or it will ultimately decline even greater. These he said, were the problem of too small church attendance; lack of enthusiasm in the churches; and the ever-present problem of church finance.

"Our program," he said, "is happily designed so that it will, if fully applied with the greatest cooperation, correct each of these defects and thus restore the church to the pinnacle of perfection. I thrill as I vision what such a movement as this can do. We have had many very successful ones already, but I believe that the heights of perfection are still unsurmounted. With such a fine Lincoln group, I have great hopes for the crusade in your city."

No Past-Easter Slump.

Dr. Dowey explained that the drive starting on February 25, several weeks before Easter, and not ending until April 8, one week after Easter, would assume considerable proporotions before its conclusions. He said that it had not been closed on Easter in order to correct the customary "after-Easter slump."

Brief speeches praising the program and pledging the co-operation of their denominations and individual churches were made by Rev. Paul C. Johnston, Rev. Ray E. Hunt, Rev. James Macpherson, and Rev. Ira W. Kingsley.

Many denominations were included in the audience which attended the meeting, one of the largest church rallies ever held in Lincoln. The audience included visitors from out-state, some coming from as far west as McCook.

Rev. Ben F. Wyland, chairman of the Lincoln area of the crusade, presided over the meeting and announced temporary plans for additional instruction meetings to be held on February 6 and February 13.

The plans for the drive are:

February 25—The Call to Loyalty, a. m. roll call; p. m., Women's night

March 4—The Way of Loyalty; a. m. family day; p. m., Men's night.

March 11—The Influence of Loyalty, a. m., Neighbor's Day; p. m., Missions' night

March 18—The Glory of Loyalty; a. m., Symphony day, p. m., Old Hymn night.

March 25—The Pledge of Loyalty, a. m, recruiting day; p. m., Young People's night

April 1—The Incentive to Loyalty (Easter Sunday.)

April 8—The Abiding Loyalty; a. m., New Members' day; p. m. Loyalty—Fellowship Night.

Chicago Society Buzzes After Harold McCormick Entertains Former Wife

CHICAGO, Jan. 24—(AP)—Society circles were buzzing today after Harold F. McCormick had entertained his former wife, Ganna Walska, the Polish opera singer, at a luncheon for two in his Rush street stone mansion.

The meeting of the two, whose marriage ended in divorce, took place yesterday soon after Mme. Walska arrived in the city for a concert engagement tonight, and society wondered if a reconciliation was in the making. He has engaged a box for her concert.

Nebraskans Attending Hatchery Code Meeting

Six Nebraska hatcherymen were in Clinton, Mo., Wednesday attending a conference with J. A. Hannah, federal hatchery code administrator. Those making the trip to seek latest interpretations of the code are: R. S. Hill, Lincoln; W. G. Lewis, Lincoln; A. F. Gibbs, Nebraska City; Erle Smiley, Seward; George Oberg, Schuyler; and Harold Lampert, Wahoo.

A new administration ruling which has been received by J. R. Redditt, extension poultryman at the college of agriculture, exempts from the code farmers who use eggs produced on their own farms and hatch them in incubators there and sell less than 500 chicks per year. Another ruling indicates small hatchery operators need not charge $30 per week against their operating cost as first indicated, and they will be allowed, instead, to charge 37½ cents per hour for all time required in hatching the chicks.

The minimum at which chicks may be sold under the code is $6.30 per hundred, and no sales may be made below cost of production.

Black Hellebore Blooms At George Smith Home

Mrs. George O. Smith, 1837 C, has a black Hellebore in bloom at her home. This is commonly known as the Christmas rose and is a member of the buttercup family. It is a small, low plant, the leaves remaining green the year around. The buds, which appear early in the fall, sometimes are tinted with pink around the outside. The flowers, which appear after Christmas, are white with a yellow center, and hang bell-shaped, or stand open similar to a daisy. Mrs. Smith says this is the earliest that the plant has bloomed.

Lupe Velez And Weissmuller At Parting Of Ways

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24—(INS)—Lupe Velez, fiery little Mexican film actress, and her mate, Johnny Weissmuller, actor-swimmer, have separated, Miss Velez announced today.

"I guess it's Hollywood. It's no use. We fight. We fight. We fight," Lupe said. "It's fifty-fifty. I don't put the blame on him. I don't put the blame on myself. We just can't get along together."

Lupe said that Johnny was leaving her home in Beverly Hills today.

They were married secretly at Las Vegas, Nev., last October 8.

Weissmuller, when questioned about his wife's announcement, remained silent.

Lupe said that she and Weissmuller, who plays Tarzan roles in pictures, had quarreled since the first few days of their marriage.

Hollywood viewed the separation as the result of a clash of temperaments, Lupe fiery, Johnny less volatile but still excitable.

"I love him, my Johnny, very, very, very much," Lupe said when she revealed their marriage.

But today she said: "Johnny goes away from our house today. I don't think Lupe take him back."

STRONG WINDS PREVENT BYRD CREW LANDING

20 Men Already Ashore Continue Moving Of Supplies.

ABOARD ADMIRAL BYRD'S FLAGSHIP, Bay of Whales, Antarctica, Jan. 24— (Via Mackay Radio)—(AP)—An ill wind blew part of the Byrd expedition into idleness today.

Springing up suddenly, it drove Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's flagship from her berth along the low shelf of crumbling ice—so that none of those on board could go ashore.

Some took turns at a glass, watching the men marooned on shore laboriously towing supplies on the bay ice, the dog teams hurrying loaded sledges to a transfer depot a mile and a half to the southeast.

Of the 20 on shore, three were in the cold winter camp at Little America, the others distributed among empty caches four and a half miles south of the edge of the bay ice and the unloading station at its edge.

The turns at the glass were expected to be replaced by real work again soon. The ship was crusing slowly and all indications pointed to the probability of an early mooring.

I. W. Jacoby Proposes Pasture Amendment

Urges President Permit Horses and Mules To Pasture On Corn Land Taken Out of Production.

I. W. Jacoby, former state legislator and farmer near here, in a letter to President Roosevelt, suggests the federal corn-hog reduction program be modified so that horses and mules could be pastured on land retired from production.

He told the president that many farmers of the cornbelt want the contract amended and asserted pasturing of horses and mules would be beneficial to the cornbelt.

"We have no objections to having the contracted acres prevented from being used in any way for the production of meat animals, dairy animals or dairy products or anything else that goes into the diet of an American citizen," he wrote.

"There is a shortage of horses and mules in the cornbelt amounting to approximately eight million head," Jacobly wrote. "The AAA was created to reduce agricultural commodities. It takes more than four acres of cornbelt land to feed a horse one year. It takes 1.1 acres to feed an American citizen on a restricted diet." Jacoby, a democrat, recently purchased 62 horses.

Comeback

HILLSBORO, N. H., Jan. 24—(AP)—A heavy woolen underwear is coming back; underwear of the type grandpa sported; underwear so thick it would almost stop a bullet.

Hillsboro mills report an increased demand for those old fashioned blue woolens with white satin piping and pearl buttons.

The sudden demand comes from the younger generation. The youngsters are wearing them as ski suits, to be pulled on over the customary skiing costume.

Treasury Makes Billion Offering

Two Types of Short Term Issues Announced By Morgenthau.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(INS)—Driving forward toward the port of recovery the treasury today offered a billion dollars in short term securities to provide funds for an initial oiling of the economic machine.

This offering was the first of a series which by the end of June was expected to aggregate ten billion dollars.

The current issue indicates there will be offerings probably monthly until June 30.

Secretary Morgenthau said the first issue would be of about $500,000,000 in 2½ per cent treasury notes dated January 29 and maturing March 15, 1935, and the other the same amount in 1½ per cent certificates of indebtedness, dated January 29 and maturing September 15.

Officials immediately predicted the offerings would be absorbed quickly in the normal investment sources without any subscriptions from the Federal Reserve banks. The reserve bank governors met last week to discuss the possibility of taking a portion of the securities but the opinion prevailed this would be unnecessary.

The current issue does not involve refinancing but is to obtain new money. Therefore, it will have the effect of increasing the public debt by whatever amount is allocated. The present debt is approximately $24,000,000,000.

The next refinancing will take place March 15 with the maturity of $460,099,000 in ¾ per cent certificates. On April 15 about $1,000,000,000 in 4¼ Fourth Liberties, called in October, will be retired, while on May 2, there is a maturity of $244,234,600 in three per cent notes.

The new issues will be exempt from all taxation except estate and inheritance.

Mrs. Matthewson Dies From Injury In Fall

W. C. Mathewson, 649 North Twenty-seventh street, left Wednesday morning for York where he will attend funeral services for his mother, Mrs. Ella Mathewson, 77, who died at the state Odd Fellows home Tuesday. Her death was caused by an injury to her hip suffered in a fall five weeks ago.

Mrs. Mathewson and her husband, W. P. Mathewson, had been residents of the York home since 1927. She was born at Farmington, Ill., and before going to York to make their home, the couple had lived in Lincoln for about 25 years. Her husband and son survive. Funeral services and interment will be held at the home.

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 24—(INS)—In Arizona to recover from a throat ailment, William Woodin, formerly secretary of the treasury, is showing steady improvement according to announcement today of physicians who said that Woodin now is allowed to sit up two hours daily.

Good Goods

HILLSBORO, N. H., Jan. 24—(AP)—Charles Knight, 74-year-old artist, won't be able to carry out a family tradition if he doesn't get out of the hospital soon.

For more than 25 winters he has ambled along the snow-covered streets of Hillsboro in the same old blue overcoat—a family heirloom.

Before him, his father wore the coat for 21 seasons. The velvet collar has been changed several times and the buttons sewed on many times but the coat itself still is intact.

How to Stop a Cold
Quick as You Caught It

Take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets.

Drink full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

If throat is sore, crush and dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in a half glass of water and gargle according to directions in box.

Almost Instant Relief in This Way

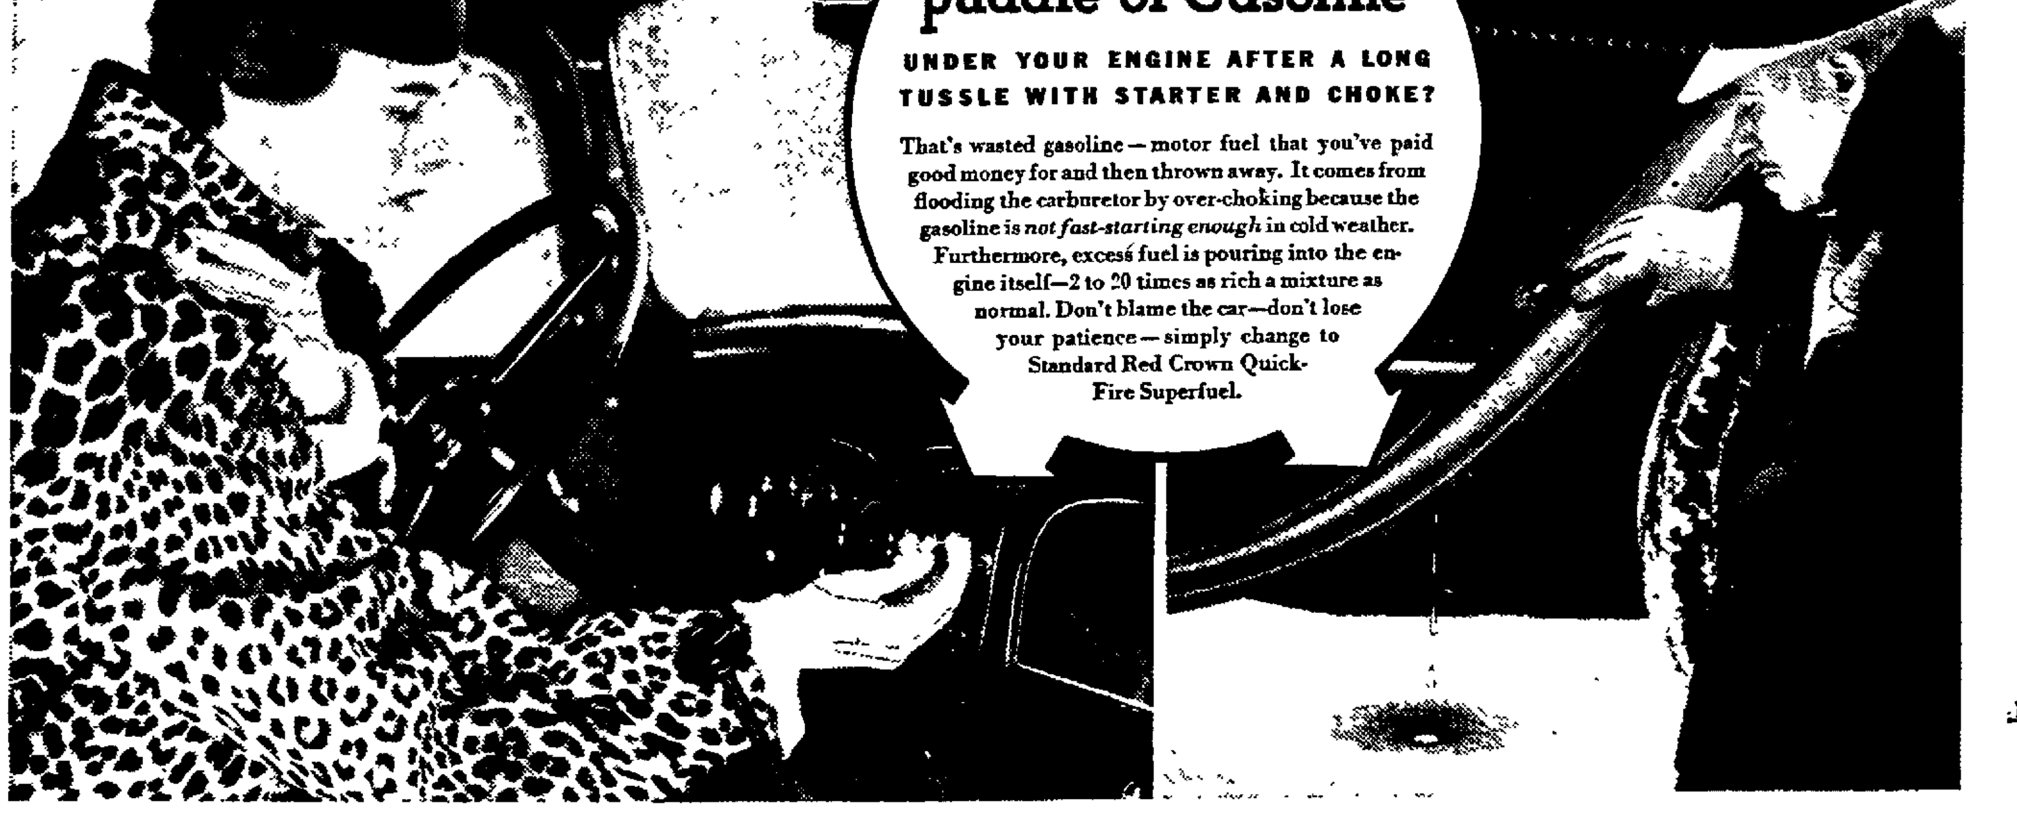
It is recognized as the QUICKEST, safest, surest way to treat a cold. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine BAYER Aspirin Tablets dissolve so completely, they leave no irritating particles. Get a box of 12 tablets or bottle of 24 or 100 at any drug store.

Does Not Harm the Heart

GET GOING FAST—and stop throwing gasoline away!



Ever notice that puddle of Gasoline
UNDER YOUR ENGINE AFTER A LONG TUSSLE WITH STARTER AND CHOKE?

That's wasted gasoline—motor fuel that you've paid good money for and then thrown away. It comes from flooding the carburetor by over-choking because the gasoline is not fast-starting enough in cold weather. Furthermore, excess fuel is pouring into the engine itself—2 to 20 times as rich a mixture as normal. Don't blame the car—don't lose your patience—simply change to Standard Red Crown Quick-Fire Superfuel.

STANDARD'S 1934 WINTER GASOLINE
REDUCES AMOUNT OF FUEL USED IN STARTING, 30% TO 50%

STARTS COLD ENGINES FASTER . . .
Catches hold almost immediately when you punch the starter—cuts down chance of flooded carburetor—saves costly grinding-down of battery.

DEVELOPS FULL DRIVING POWER QUICKLY . . .
Holds that fast start—sends the power evenly into every cylinder from the very jump-off—lets you go into gear and away without waiting, and with minimum use of choke.

GIVES YOU MORE MILES FOR YOUR MONEY . . .
No excessive waste of gasoline in starting—no burning of excess fuel to warm up the motor. That means practically all the gasoline you buy is converted into actual mileage.

IMPORTANT!
No gasoline—no matter how fast-starting it may be—can get you going properly if the wrong oil is dragging on your cold engine. Here's an oil that is specifically made to help things along in winter—doesn't get heavy and sticky in severe cold—always gives your engine free play:

Blond Goddess

A New Serial By HERBERT JENSEN

SYNOPSIS Frank Grahame, aviator and explorer, has seen a vulturine face peering through the window of the movie executive Myberg's office; later he follows Janice Kent's car in a taxi because he has seen a second car with three suspicious-looking men in it trailing Miss Kent's limousine There is a collision, and Frank knocks out the driver of the second car and takes Miss Kent home. Frank is drawn to the beautiful movie star He is disturbed by the disappearance off the Mexican coast of his friend Langton the famous aviator, and interested by the prospect of a contract with Myberg's firm.

Chapter Five.
INTRODUCING SPIN

It was natural that Grahame be asked to come to Hollywood on an "opportunity contract It was natural that he should accept it Frank Grahame was quite willing that he be "found' He loved the jungle he would always love it but civilization had begun to take on a more substantial glamor than he had ever thought possible

He would always feel a poignant ache at dawn or at sunset In Hollywood flocks of parrots do not spin like vivid green wheels against a background of old rose smooth savannahs do not shoulder between sullen walls of jungle nor do strange flower scents wrap you when you sleep

Nevertheless Grahame liked cities or at any rate this one He had discovered two old buddies among the flying stunt-men Another had 'gone native' and played heavies These spoke of still others that he would remember knowing well before he quit piloting planes for piloting jungle expeditions — personable adventurous fellows that he had known in far corners with whom he could yarn in vainglorious exaggeration.

He was about to make his decision to stay when he met Janice Kent

As he helped her from her car and across the lawns to her Beverly Hills house he was sure that this accidental meeting was about to add pleasant finality to this decision

A maid tok his hat from him within the entrance Janice smiled toward him as she mounted the stairs

"I'll be down in a minute or two' she said. "I'll phone Mr Greene in the meantime"

In the drawing room standing before the open fireplace Frank thrust his upturned palms toward the crackling logs. It seemed incongruous in these tastefully appointed surroundings of civilization to allow himself to think of sinister shadows of furtive pursuit yet a frown of abstracted reflection remained on his forehead

Thoughtfully he rubbed at the slight soreness of his right knuckles He could not drive away the mental image of the vulture-like profile shadowed on the studio window. Some dim memory faintly stirred—obscure as the hushed pulse of a native drum felt rather than heard across miles of jungle

Grahame, home in his apartment stared moodily at the afternoon paper on his lap With an angry gesture he pushed away the paper and stood up He turned to another man seated where a westerly sun's rays slanted in.

"Tell me. Spin" he said "You know this racket out here What in hell do they mean by publishing all this tripe? I called you over here five minutes after I bought this paper You work for Myberg and the Consolidated so does Janice, and so I suppose does this little liar Greene —Look! He kicked the paper toward the other Spin Winslow grinned. He did not glance at the paper but contemplated with a loving absorption the contents of his tall glass.

"What's it say? You tell me Frank. Did Greene say you fought desperately with a hundred-thugs and snatched the swooning Janice from their hairy clutches?"

Grahame snorted. "Something like that, only worse. I thought there was something phony about that little ant when I met him last night. He asked me if I had any baby pictures. Baby pictures! He had the guts—about two o'clock today — to phone and ask about them again… said he wanted them for an article he was calling Babyhood Romance Flowers in Tragedy I thought he was kidding but I bought this paper just to see" He laughed frostily. "But he wasn't"

"Moreover it said that Miss Kent was confined to her bed with shock. She was all right when I left her last night—unless Greene shocked her with an outline of what he was going to write today I phoned today to find out if she really was ill… She a frail, delicate little thing—"

Winslow laughed whole-heartedly "Hold on Frank You phoned and couldn't reach her?"

"Yes, it worried me I say, how do you know?"

Winslow chuckled into his glass "She was at the studio with Mybery and Ortega and me. She was confined all right but not to her bed There's a new picture coming up—a honey—foreign stuff She's to be the golden haired lead; I'm to fly the stunts

"They were discussing who'll play opposite her but they can't tell who would fit until the continuity men hack out a plot. What d'ye mean she's frail and delicate! You could not club that girl to death—she's whalebone and gristle under that skin you love to tou—"

Grahame's gesture interrupted the other

"Who's Ortega?

'A gentleman from Central America Mexican maybe" Winslow then drained his glass and sat it down "I can't figure him myself. He showed up here a month ago with a lulu of an idea. Well, you know the publicity these Chichen Itza ruins in Yucatan are getting? He says he knows bigger and better ruins further in that country with more jungle around for the atmosphere shots

"You know how Myberg loves his authentic backgrounds—or should —if you've looked at his pictures.

"Well this is to be a blond goddess picture or at least she is to be his bride The Bride of Quetzalcoatl is the tentative name" He laughed. "Myberg said he didn't like the name It reminded too many people of pants and vests'

Grahame smiled He liked this gossipy fellow whose nerves were of steel beneath his happy-go-lucky, cynical exterior. But he wanted to know more of this man Ortega whose name Janice Kent had defended so arbitrarily the evening before

He decided to take Spin partly into his confidence He told him that Miss Kent seemed to agree that the idea that the accident may have been planned until Ortega's name was brought definitely into focus as the party responsible

DEATH TOLL IN INDIA APPALLING

Earthquake Wipes Out 25,000 Lives in Monghyr District Alone.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 24—(AP)—An appalling toll beyond any previously hinted may be reached in India's earthquake dead, it was indicated today when the rajah of Monghyr said deaths in Monghyr alone have reached 25,000

It will be weeks he added, before ruins can be removed to reveal the incalculable bodies buried by the earthquakes last week which shook the region during the important Moslem festival of Ehdul Fitr. The rajah predicted two generations will pass before the devastated areas can be rehabilitated.

An unnamed engineer was quoted today as having declared after a survey that the names of both Monghyr and Muzaffarpur might as well be erased from the map.

Seek Retention Of Experiment Stations

WASHINGTON Jan 24—(AP) The members of congress from ten western states were asked today to sign a petition to restore to the budget an appropriation for dry land experimentation. Dry land agricultural stations have been operating for 27 years in North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska, among others

The fight for restoration of the appropriation was begun by Rep. Sinclair and Lemke and the petition originated in Lemke's office.

The request sets forth that the stations have been of valuable assistances in demonstrating to farmers what crops could be raised with a minimum of rainfall.

Dr. Gibbons Is Revising Food List Recommended For Needy

Canned tomatoes whole grain cereals molasses and peanut butter—those are the most serious absentee from diets of Nebraska's needy people says Dr Rebekah Gibbons after field trips over the state for about three weeks

As a result of her observations Miss Gibbons is revising the list of recommended articles from which grocery orders for needy people are drafted Miss Gibbons, who obtained a leave of absence from her work as associate professor of home economics at the University of Nebraska to undertake her present work is a special diet advisor to the federal relief administration in Nebraska

Among other duties Miss Gibbons is supervising nutrition classes for mothers of needy families About four such classes are functioning in Lincoln and many others all over the state At the last convention of the Nebraska Home Economics association 10 women volunteered as instructors for such work and Miss Gibbons is co-ordinating their efforts

Her duties aim particularly toward determining whether federal relief to Nebraska's needy is "adequate" says Dr Gibbons As an example of the work she reports an investigation into the milk supplies for unfortunate families

Freshmen Fears

ROCKFORD. Ill., Jan 24—(AP) —First year students at Rockford women's college are afraid of unpopularity more than anything else'

This was disclosed by a psychological examination

Other "chief fears" were suspicious looking men, dark streets, mice, snakes, spiders, living too long, and what happens after death.

Cuba Recognized By Many Nations

HAVANA Jan 24—(AP)—Cuba rejoined her place among the recognized governments of the world today and her new leader. President Carlos Mendieta set out to solve her affairs at home.

Other great powers followed the United States, which granted recognition to Mendieta yesterday in extending their recognition immediately.

Those which granted recognition were Mexico Colombia, Uruguay, Chile the Dominican Republic, the United States, China, Italy, Bolivia, Costa Rica, Peru, Great Britain, France and Spain

Grant Wilson, the British minister to Cuba, conveyed recognition to the Cuban government on behalf of the United Kingdom. Canada Australia, New Zealand and South Africa

Steel Business Falls Off in Most Centers

NEW YORK, Jan 24—(AP)—In the absence of expected support from the automobile industry, railroads and building trades, steel business had fallen off in most centers, "Iron Age" said today. The review's national production average is 32 per cent of capacity, a point under last week

"It is now clear" it said, "that steel production of late has been sustained in part by replenishment of inventories Any gains that are made from now on will more accurately reflect increases in steel consumption"

Liquor Imports Take Big Jump in December

WASHINGTON Jan. 24 — (AP) — Imports of liquor into the United States in December were shown by department of commerce figures today to have jumped 11 times over November

The December total was $10,887-825 compared with $888.129 the previous month.

Roosevelt Hopes For Legislation On Stock Market

WASHINGTON Jan 24—(AP)—President Roosevelt expects congress to act on regulation of the stock exchanges at this session as a fulfillment of the democratic platform but he is not ready to propose the form of action

The president had before him a report from Secretary Roper on regulation of the stock exchange and he announced he would send it to the interested congressional committees for their information

After the committees have studied the specially prepared report and have formulated their own ideas the president expects to confer with members on a determination of policy

He will follow the same course on the Roper report submitted yesterday outlining a formula for greater control over the vast communication systems of the nation.

Gasoline Production In February Limited To 27 Million Barrels

WASHINGTON Jan 24 — (AP) — Secretary Ickes today approved a proposal by the oil industry that the entire production of gasoline in the nation during February should be limited to 27,140,000 barrels

The oil administrator explained the resolution put forward under the oil code by the industry's planning and co-ordinating committee followed an administrative order that gasoline stocks on February 28 should aggregate 52,130 000 barrels

U. S. MINTS OPEN TO SOVIET GOLD

Ban Against Russian Lumber, Pulp Wood and Matches Lifted.

WASHINGTON, Jan 24— (AP) — Secretary Morgenthau today opened federal mints to soviet Russian gold

It was one of three important orders affecting trade with newly recognized Russia The other two lifted prohibitions against Russian lumber and pulp wood because of convict labor production and against Russian matches because of dumping

Morgenthau said the director of the mint had been advised that gold of soviet origin may now be received by the mints upon the same basis as gold received from other nations

The order lifting the convict labor ban on lumber and pulp wood produced in certain areas in European Russia left open the right "without prejudice to the presentation of evidence by any and all parties who may be interested or to the department's liberty upon its own motion to re-examine the facts by the use of representatives of the government soon to be available in Russia"

Voters League to Meet— The Veteran Voters league will hold a meeting at the county court house, room 1, Thursday at 8 p. m.

Munger To Norfolk — Federal Judge T. C. Munger went to Norfolk Tuesday night to hold a hearing on an equity matter Wednesday morning.

Campbell To Speak — Clinton J Campbell, counsel for the Nebraska public works board, will speak to the Knife and Fork club Thursday noon at the Lincoln hotel on "The Public Works Program in Nebraska."

Changes Plea—Robert Dreamer, who on December 26 pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal transportation of liquor, changed his plea to guilty in Municipal court Tuesday afternoon. He was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

Appearance Entered — The Otoe Food Products company of Nebraska City entered a voluntary appearance in the case filed against it January 13 by District Attorney Charles E. Sandall, charging violations of the national food and drug acts. The food company waived issuance of summons and entered voluntary appearance for March 10, 1934.

Asks Beer Licenses—Nick Gekas Wednesday filed with the city clerk applications for on and off sale beer licenses at 115 South Fourteenth street. The applications were accompanied by the required bonds.

Camera Club Meets— Members of the Lincoln Camera club discussed the exhibit of the Kansas City Camera club which is now on exhibition in Gallery A of Morrill hall at their meeting Tuesday evening. The meeting was presided over by Dwight Kirsch.

Dental Study Club—Reports dealing with devitalized teeth were given by Dr. Glenn R. Johnston, Dr. W. W. Lamphere, Dr. Alton Pardee, Dr. T. J. Cruise and Dr. Ray Brigham at the regular bimonthly meeting of the Davis Dental Study club at the Cornhusker hotel Tuesday evening.

House Ransacked—Thieves entered the Earl Mitchell home at 2121 North Thirtieth stre., by way of a basement door sometime Tuesday afternoon and made away with a loud speaker, two radio tubes and $6 in cash, Mr. Mitchell reported to police. No one was home at the time, and the front door had been left open, he said.

Discusses Single Tax — A. L. Weatherly, who addressed the Henry George club in the Social Science hall spoke on Henry George's so-called single tax plan. He pointed out the fact that this tax would wipe out slums, abolish low wages, end this depression and prevent future ones and would free the individual from domination by the state.

Ruling Upheld—Federal Judge J. A. Donohoe of Omaha, upheld a ruling of Federal Bankruptcy Referee McClenahan in which McClenahan held that a loan by Ethel Harriman, secured by real estate in Scotts Bluff county on which the Lincoln Trust company had paid taxes up to 1930, constituted a prior lien on the property. There had been objection to the ruling but Judge Donohoe upheld it.

Civic Club Speakers— District Judge E. B. Chappell will speak at the meeting of the Co-Operative club, and George Hodge, federal reemployment director for Nebraska, at the Lions club Thursday noon, at the chamber of comerce. W. C. Frampton of the sanitary board will speak at the Optimist club meeting at the Cornhusker hotel Thursday noon. The Lions club program will include a novelty entertainment.

take a three hour rest, the unofficial returns from 240 precincts showed Walmsley 41,066; Klorer 26,854; Francis Williams, independent anti-Long campaigner 23,682; and Herbert H. Homes, independent non-factional candidate, about 500.

These figures included 192 precincts officially canvassed by the parish democratic committee which gave Walmsley 31,910; Klorer 20,803; Williams 18,131; and Homes 248.

First Defeat In Six Years.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24—(AP)—For the first time in six years the political flag of Senator Huey P. Long has been lowered in defeat in Louisiana.

His candidate for mayor of New Orleans in the democratic primary stood second to Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley, seeking re-election on an anti-Long ticket. The mayor held a substantial lead over three opponents, but whether it would be sufficient to avoid a second primary was problematical as a winning candidate is required to poll a majority of the total vote cast.

Returns from 98 of the 262 precincts gave Walmsley 16,258; John Klorer, Long candidate, 10,439; Francis Williams, independent, 8,478 and Herbert Homes, another independent, 125.

Walmsley issued a statement claiming victory at the polls but the other candidates have refused to concede defeat, claiming that final returns will place them second for a run-off primary.

Senator Long particularly was incensed over a report that he had conceded defeat for his candidate and Williams insisted that he would go into a second primary with Walmsley.

It appeared that Walmsley also had carried his entire ticket along with him. The New Orleans Tribune, a newspaper that supported Walmsley, voiced opposition today to a second primary, urging that Walmsley be declared the winner on the basis of his votes in yesterday's primary.

Counting of the ballots was unusually slow as the commissioners had been instructed to count the entire ticket rather than the heads of the tickets as in previous elections.

The city has been in political furore for weeks. Special interest was injected into the campaign by the breaking off of political relationships between Long and Walmsley, who had merged their political interests over a period of years.

SENATE MOVES TOWARD A VOTE ON MONEY BILL than the secretary of the treasury alone.

Robinson Goes To White House.

The president's views were passed along to congressional leaders after a conference at the white house with Senator Robinson, democratic leader.

Robinson said the amendment adopted by the senate banking committee yesterday to limit the operation of the fund and the president's power to devalue the dollar to two years, with provision for extending them to three, would "in all probability be accepted."

The other amendment, which the administration opposes, would have a board composed of the secretary of treasury, the governor of the federal reserve board; the comptroller of the currency and two others appointed by the senate run the stabilization fund.

Administration leaders said they would insist upon the original terms of the bill, providing the secretary of treasury with sole jurisdiction over the fund, contending that it can only be handled by a single power.

HOUSE APPROVES NAVY FUND BILL

33 Millions Appropriated To Bring Fleet Up to Treaty Limits.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24— (AP) — The appropriation bill carrying $284,747,000 for the navy next fiscal year was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

Although the measure appropriates $33,619,334 for ship construction to bring the fleet up to treaty limits, it does not provide for the replacement of ships which now are or will be over useful age when the London treaty expires December 31, 1936.

There was no roll call vote on passage of the bill.

Earlier, the house naval committee had abandoned plans to seek enactment of the Vinson bill as an amendment to the regular supply bill for the navy department. The Vinson bill would provide for a construction program to bring the navy to treaty limits.

FACULTY TRIBUTES TO DR. WOLCOTT

Dr. Samuel Avery, chancellor emeritus of the university, in the absence from the city of Chancellor E. A. Burnett spoke of Dr. R. H. Wolcott's service to the university as follows:

"Doctor Wolcott and I entered the services of the university as instructors almost simultaneously. I early formed with him a friendship that has endured up to the present. He was in the early days recognized not only as a thorough scientist but a young man of most lovable character. I have been with him out in the state and know how the farming people appreciated his talks on problems relating to their work. He was an inspiring teacher, an author of unusual clarity in writing, and a genial member of the university community. His absence from the campus will be noticed with deep regret by all who have ever come in contact with him. This is particularly true of the older people who have known him during his entire university career."

Earl Cline, Lincoln, member of the university board of regents, expressed the condolences of the regents as follows:

Loss To University.

"With the termination by death of the 38 years of service rendered by Dr. R. H. Wolcott, the stae and the university loses a man who has long upheld the standards and ideals of teaching. During his years of service he had filled positions from that of assistant to that of dean, always working for the betterment of mankind.

"As a member of the board of regents I wish to express my sincere regrets at the passing of one who pioneered in the development of our state university."

Dr. Charles Fordyce, chairman of the department of educational psychology and measurements, paid the following tribute:

"In the passing of Dr. Robert H. Wolcott, the University of Nebraska has lost one of its most skillful instructors. Few men, if any, have done more to develop the spirit of research in our department of biological science than has Dr. Wolcott. He was accurately and broadly trained and possessed that happy faculty of putting scientific truth in that clear, concise and interesting form that inspired his students to their best efforts. I am sure that the entire faculty of the university joins the staff of the department of zoology in its deep sense of personal loss."

MAY GIVE NAMES OF BONDHOLDERS

District Judges Direct First Trust Furnish Lists On Request.

The four District court judges Wednesday entered an order directing The First Trust Co. to give out names of bondholders of Lincoln Trust Co. bonds to other bondholders or mortgagors on request.

The order was entered after The First Trust Co. had requested an instruction from the court regarding its action in handling such requests for names of the Lincoln Trust bonds, for which The First Trust is successor trustee.

The court order finds that there has been no general order in the past, but that the custom has been for the successor trustee to furnish names by order of the court on written application and for the payment of 10 cents a name with a minimum charge of 50 cents for each list. The First Trust is directed to keep the same scale of charges in effect in the future.

The order directs that on payment of this charge the successor trustee shall furnish to any owner of any bonds or to any mortgagor in any trust, the names, addresses and amounts held by all bondholders in any designated loan without further order of the court.

The judges reserved ruling relative to whether a statute enacted in 1933 makes it requisite for successor trustee to give names of bondholders on request. On this point, the judges said: "The court does not at this time determine whether Chapter 158 of the 1933 statutes is controlling, in view of the fact that this court acquired jurisdiction of the trusts in 1932."

Search Extends to Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan 24—(AP) — The search for the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, wealthy St. Paul banker, was believed to have been taken up in Chicago today when a number of detective bureau squads were ordered to assist Federal secret service agents in guarding railroad stations.

They were on watch for two widely known kidnapers, supposedly on their way here from St. Paul.

The men sought were reported to be Vern Sanke, 42, and Gordon Alcorn They were indicted by a federal grand jury at Denver on March 29, 1932, for the kidnaping of Charles Boettcher, wealthy Denver resident, but never were apprehended.

Council Bluffs Man Is Fined; Other Sentenced After Truck-Car Crash

Welsey Harper, truck driver, and Robert Rauterkus, salesman, both of Council Bluffs, Ia., pleaded guilty to charges filed against them in Municipal court Wednesday morning following their arrest after an auto accident in which they were involved Tuesday afternoon.

A fine of $10 and costs was assessed against Rauterkus by Judge John L. Polk after he pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge and Harper was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for operating a motor vehicle while drunk.

The pair was arrested when the truck in which they were riding, driven by Harper, ran into an auto driven by Mrs. Edwin Yoder, 2811 Cedar avenue, near Eleventh and C streets Tuesday afternoon.

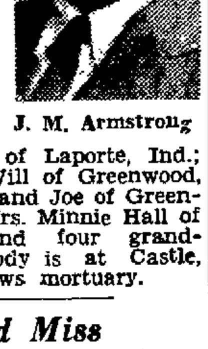
John M. Armstrong, 68, a resident of Greenwood for the past 60 years, died at his home there at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was born in Illinois November 1, 1865 and came to Greenwood in 1873. For a number of years he farmed but retired several years ago.



J. M. Armstrong

He is survived by his wife Mattie Hall Armstrong; two sons, Ralph of Omaha and Charles of Greenwood; two daughters, Mrs. Walton Ferris of Lincoln and Mrs. Mildred Jardine of Laporte, Ind.; three brothers, Will of Greenwood, Hugh of Gordon and Joe of Greenwood; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Hall of Kelso, Wash.; and four grandchildren. The body is at Castle, Roper & Matthews mortuary.

Tribute Paid Miss Badger For Life Of Unselfish Service

to himself a hero is. And thus it was with the friend whose memory we honor today. She little realized how large a place she filled in the efficiency of work in the office of the superintendent of schools

"For almost all of the 43 years Miss Badger served the schools I have known her," Dr. Bailey said. "She was always at her post, quiet, kindly, accurate, sympathetic. Thousands of people scattered from coast to coast have received from her a silently given inspiration. This is an immortality that certainly exists."

Dr. Bailey concluded with an expression of the hope that the Lincoln school system in the future might be built upon a foundation which could "only be built by the conscientious, unselfish, inspiring work of those whose character is as ennobling and unblemished as that of our friend."

Oldest Employe, Says Lefler.

"Not a person among us today, who serves the schools of Lincoln, in either instructional or custodial capacity, was here to greet Miss Badger when she assumed her duties," Supt. M. C. Lefler declared. "Hers represents the longest and most continuous of all in point of service. She has had no leave of absence during those 43 years, nor is there anything to show that she was ever away from her duties for any continuous period on account of illness or any other cause.

"If every division of government could have in every person who serves it the degree of loyalty, devotion, and integrity which has characterized Anna Badger's contribution to the Lincoln schools in the past 43 years, the functions of government would be assured and its benefits guaranteed.

"I do not know," Mr. Lefler said, "the sum total of Anna Badger's beneficent influence among the folk of her day and generation, but I set it down as a mighty truth that her influence will be immeasurably great and beneficial to those who were fortunate enough to come within the large circle of her acquaintance."

Quotes Poem.

He concluded with a poem by Philip Jerome Cleveland entitled "Three Things," in which Faith, Hope and Love were held out as the greatest in life. "These things had Anna Badger," Mr. Lefler said.

The Lincoln high school choir, under the direction of W. G. Tempel sang "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light." Louise Magee was the accompanist. Paul LeBar played the organ before and after the service.

Pallbearers were E. E. Brackett, C. L. Culler, T. V. Goodrich, Egbert Grainger, J. G. Ludlam and Robert E. Powell. Principals and supervisors of schools were honorary pallbearers. Interment was at Wyuka cemetery.

Roosevelt Talks To German Envoy On Trade Balance

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24— (AP) — President Roosevelt, in a recent talk with the German ambassador to demand equal treatment by Germany for American holders of German bonds outlined a theory of closer trade relations involving a balance of imports and exports between the two countries.

Mr Roosevelt told Dr. Hans Luther, the German ambassador, he expected Germany to pay off her public and private debts to American creditors on the same basis as to creditors of other nations.

The German view it is understood, was that larger payments on its debts to Switzerland and Holland eventually would alter the domestic economic situation so much that Germany would better be able to pay other countries.

The white house also appears to be interested in reports that Germany is buying up German bonds in this country at figures far below par resulting from the German debt-paying program.

size and place of merit in Bessey hall.

On June 2, 1897, Dr. Wolcott was married to Miss Clara Buckstaff of Lincoln. He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Gerald Carpender of Lincoln; a son, Allen of Lincoln; and a brother, Samuel of Minneapolis.

Professor Wolcott had been chairman of the department of zoology since 1915, and prior to the establishment of the full four years medical course at Omaha he had been dean of the medical college. At the time of his death he also was acting chairman of the departments of bacteriology and pathology.

He joined the University of Nebraska faculty in 1895 as an assistant in the zoology department, and had been continuously affiliated with the institution since. He was given the rank of full professor in 1905 as an anatomy teacher. In 1909 he became head professor and acting dean of the medical college, and in 1910 dean.

When the medical college was expanded at Omaha, Professor Wolcott returned to the zoology department as head professor and dean of the junior medical college in Lincoln.

During various summers since 1901, Dr. Wolcott served as zoology professor at the University of Missouri and at Puget Sound biology station.

Author Three Books.

He was the author of three books, parts of three other books and numerous articles on topics varying between zoology, mathematics and soil conservation.

Dr. Wolcott's latest book, "Animal Biology," a textbook on beginning zoology, was published late in the summer of 1933 and was at that time adopted as a text in a number of colleges. The new book is rated by the Nebraska faculty as one of the best of its kind in print and is the only book Dr. Wolcott wrote without a collaborator.

Two of Dr. Wolcott's first interests were his fraternity, Phi Delta Theta, in which he was active as an alumnus, and the Lincoln Stamp collectors club. Dr. Wolcott's chief hobby was stamp collection and he had a collection which had been in his family for four generations. He was also a member of the Izaak Walton league.

Dr. Wolcott was born in Alton, Ill., on Oct. 11, 1868. He was graduated from Grand Rapids, Mich, high school in 1885, and earned three degrees, including doctor of medicine, at the University of Michigan. He also undertook graduate studies at the University of Nebraska, where he was granted the master of arts degree in 1895, Michigan agricultural college, and the marine biological station at Woods Hole, Mass.

He was a thirty-third degree Mason, a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, an honorary member of the Michigan Academy of Science, was active in the formation of the American Ecological society, and was a member of the following organizations: Wilson Ornithological club, American Ornithologists union, American Microscopical society, of Zoologists, American Society of Naturalists, Entomological society of America, Nebraska Academy of Sciences, Nebraska Ornithologists union, and American Association of University Professors.

Award On Son's Death Made to Mrs. Merritt After Her Own Demise

Mrs. Harriett I. Merritt's death in Lincoln last Monday prevented her from receiving an award of $150 just made to her by the state labor department as a burial benefit allowance for the death of her son, Harry, killed in an automobile accident at Papillion in July, 1932. The money will accordingly go to her estate.

Harry Merritt was employed by the family firm of D. H. Merritt & Sons, Lincoln, at the time he received his fatal injuries. He left no dependents, and for that reason no compensation award was made; but under the law the burial allowance was due his mother as next of kin.

State Labor Commissioner Matthews has granted compensation of $2,250, to Henry Bachman against Thayer county, in weekly payments of $15, for 75 per cent permanent disability of his left leg caused by a hip injury in 1929. He has been drawing temporary compensation in the meantime. The present award is in addition to these payments.

Other compensation orders have been issued as herewith:

Hastings—To Clarence M. Burnham against W. H Dutton & sons, $8 20 a week from last June 20 until disability ends, but not longer than 300 weeks, to Clayton E. Daily against Western Land Roller Co., additional benefits for 50 weeks on account of permanent loss of use of one hand, plus, $153 50 in medical and hospital charges

Broken Bow—To Ray Vansant against Custer county, $12.30 a week for 45 weeks from April 30 1933 for 20 per cent loss of use of right arm

Ogallala—To W W Atkinson against Weaver Lunger Construction Co., $12 a wek for 168¾ weeks for 75 per cent loss of left arm

Deshler—To Clarence Todd against Deshler Motor Co., $13 34 a week from December 25, 1932, to September 1, 1933, for temporary total disability.

Kearney—To Harold H Karr against Neimack Motor Co., $90 temporary compensation and $225 for loss of fourth finger on left hand at $15 a week dating from March 25, last

HIRE DESIGNERS ON WATER PLANT

L. M. Troup, secretary; J. E. Miller, F D Eager, and C B Towle

After the conference, Mr Veatch said that from preliminary studies made by him a few weeks ago, he believes the plans and specifications, along with recommendations for handling the plant, can be ready for approval by the council in about thirty days. This will make it possible to complete the construction and have the plant in operation by shortly after the middle of the summer, City Engineer Erickson, and Commissioner Paul W Doerr agreed

The employment of consulting engineers was strongly urged on the council and the advisory board, by both City Engineer Erickson and the water department head. "My department is snowed under by CWA, PWA and other federal fund activities," Mr Erickson declared, "and cannot do justice to a task of such importance" Mr. Erickson and his staff, however, will supervise all construction activities after the contract is awarded, and give the consulting engineers as much help as possible in framing the plans on which a contract will be awarded.

Organize To Protect Platte Water Rights

Farmers Of Merrick, Hall and Buffalo Counties Form Association at Grand Island.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—A committee of farmers and landowners of eastern Buffalo, Hall and Merrick counties here late Tuesday, took the preliminary steps to organize all of the farmers of the lower valley into an association for the further defense of their Platte water rights.

Under the new Tri-county filings 6,275 second feet are asked for as compared with the Sutherland's 1,350. It is contended here that all of the 6,275 second feet would leave the river above Kearney. All of the details of the organization have not as yet been worked out.

"The Platte Valley Conservation association" and similar names were discussed. A very small membership fee is contemplated. The committee consists of Theodore Osterman of Merrick, E. Stolley, Phillip Rose and Hans Guilzow of Hall county and Walter Ashton, Buffalo county, all farmers.

WHITE, CHICAGO HOODLUM, SLAIN IN DRUNKEN BOUT

til they established their identity. At that time Kempster explained he had merely stopped to leave Miss Diana Anderson, 29, of Sterling, Ill., a friend of White's widow, at the apartment.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24 —(AP)— The name of William "Three Fingered Jack" White, 44-year-old ex-convict, killer and labor racket terrorist, was erased from Chicago's list of public enemies today after his slaying in a suburban Oak Park apartment.

His body, partially unclothed, was found last night after tenants of the building heard a series of rapid shots and saw two men flee from the building and jump into a waiting automobile and drive away.

Evidence of Struggle.

That the gangster had put up a desperate struggle was evidenced by the overturned furniture in the well-furnished living room in which his bullet-marked body was found.

Two glass bookcase doors were smashed and from bottles and glasses found on the premises it was evident that White and his visitors had engaged in a drinking bout before he was slain.

Early today two women, one of whom identified herself to police as White's wife, and a man were taken into custody when they drove up to the apartment in an automobile. All denied knowing anything of the killing.

The others gave their names as Miss Dinah Anderson, 29, of Sterling, Ill., and James Kelley, 28 a brother of the widow.

Served In Joliet.

White's history with the police department goes back to 1919 when he was sentenced to the Joliet prison and served a four-year term as a robber, and continues on through the regimes of the city's notorious underworld rulers.

In 1925, White was accused of the slaying of Policeman Edward Pflaume of suburban River Forest, and he was also arrested, but never brought to trial, for participation in the $80,000 robbery of the International Harvester Co.

The state twice convicted White of the murder of the policeman, but each time the state Supreme court reversed the decision, and finally the charges were nolle prossed.

After the departure of Al Capone to Atlanta federal penitentiary to serve a term for income tax evasion, police said White and Murray Humphreys, who then became "public enemy" No. 1, teamed up and formed what came to be known as the trucking and transportation exchange.

Under questioning of Chief Deputy Coroner Stephen Zolankowski, Miss Anderson gave information that led police to begin a search for two men known to her as "Bill" and "Joe" as the killers.

Kempster Enters Case.

The woman said she arrived at the apartment yesterday from Sterling in company with Oliver Kempster, also of Sterling. Kempster, she said, was a former sergeant of the state police and at present is connected with the office of Melvin Purvis, chief of the Chicago bureau of the federal department of investigation.

Later police seized Kempster and James Hartin, also associated with the federal bureau of investigation, and after questioning them released both.

After prolonged questioning of others held, Kolanowski said that in his opinion White was slain by associates of James (Fur) Sammons, now serving a life sentence in the Indiana state penitentiary at Michigan City as an habitual criminal.

Kolanowski said he believed the killing was an act of retaliation because White did not come to the aid of Sammons.

Oliver "Buck" Kempster became known to many Lincoln persons connected with the Lincoln bank robbery investigation when, as a member of the Illinois state police, he participated in the raid at East St. Louis which resulted in the capture of Howard "Pop" Lee, Tommy O'Connor and Jack Britt. Kempster was one of the trio of Illinois officers who brought these three suspects to Lincoln. Lee and O'Connor were convicted but Britt was freed after two trials in which juries were unable to agree.

Nebraska Sheriffs Are Gathered For Annual Convention

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—Approximately 200 sheriffs and police officers of Nebraska were present for the opening session of the two day convention of the Nebraska State Sheriffs' association here this morning. W. C. Condit, Lincoln, president of the association, presided.

An explanation of experimental work with various calibres of pistols, was made by R. L. Davis of Grand Island. Smaller calibre ammunition with wad cutter or soft point bullets have greater shocking power than the army .45 calibre bullet, Davis said he had found. He recommended the .38 calibre high velocity soft, or flat nosed bullet, as the most desirable side arm for peace officers.

Official welcome was extended to the officers by Mayor Thomas Dillon.

Mullen Is Waiting To Interview Farley

Has No Statement To Make In Regard to Resigning Until After He Has Talk.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Arthur F. Mullen, asserting "nobody has asked me to resign as democratic national committeeman for Nebraska," described as "pure fiction" today recent published reports his Washington law business has grossed $300,000 since last March.

Mullen returned from Nebraska Monday night and said he had not been in touch with Postmaster General Farley, chairman of the democratic national committee. He said any statement from him on his status in view of President Roosevelt's remarks about national committeemen practicing law before government departments would be made after he saw Farley.

Robertson Heads Nebraska Masonic Home Association

OMAHA, Jan. 24—(AP)—James M. Robertson of Plattsmouth was re-elected president of the Nebraska Masonic Home association at the annual meeting here Tuesday. Other officers are Mildred M. Robertson and Frank H. Woodland, Omaha, first and second vice president; James D. Whitmore, Valley, third vice president; and Lewis E. Smith, Omaha, secretary.

New members of the board of directors are Enos R. Leigh, Omaha; and Clarence O. Dawson, Blair. Other members, all re-elected, are Robert J. Jones, Rev. Luther M. Kuhns, Theodore Brammann, and Frank L. Wilcox, all of Omaha; Emmitt I. Ellis, Tekamah; Henry H. Wilson, Lincoln, and Carroll D. Evans, Columbus.

The largest number to be sheltered at one time since the home was opened in 1903, a total of 134, are now at the home, it was stated.

Deplores Friction In Nebraska Legion

BLAIR, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—Friction between various factions in the Nebraska American Legion was deplored here last night in an interview given by Rev. George F. Jonaitis, former chaplain of the state department.

"I believe these conflicts were commenced and carried on by legionnaires who wish to benefit themselves at the expense of the organization, and it seems to me high time that petty jealousies and personal ambitions were forgotten," he said.

Boelts Reconsiders Becoming Candidate

Will Not Run Against Banning for Democratic Nomination For Governor of Nebraska.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—State Senator John G. Boelts of Central City has indicated he will not be a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor. He previously said he would file as a democratic candidate if W. B. Banning of Union sought the democratic nomination. Banning has entered the race.

"Senator Banning's political scalp is not worth having," Boelts said in answer to a question of whether he will fulfill his avowed intention to become a candidate.

"He is too dead to fool with. Let the dead bury the dead," was Boelts' comment.

Sommer Is Chairman Of Code Authority For Grocery Trade

OMAHA, Jan. 24— (AP) — Louis Sommer of Omaha was elected permanent chairman of the Nebraska code authority for the state food and grocery distributors at a meeting of representatives of the various groups here Tuesday. Other members of the code authority group are J. M. Newman, chain stores; J. J. Grainger of Lincoln, voluntary groups; Bud Paxson, retail owned wholesale houses, and H. J. Holmes independent wholesalers. Sommer represents the independent retailers.

Grainger was named treasurer of the group and Newman, who is state secretary of the Nebraska Federation of Retailers, was chosen secretary. R. V. Koupal of Lincoln will be executive secretary through the code authority. Nebraska, it is said, will be divided into 20 code districts, each of which will have its own district code authority.

GEORGE CAMPBELL COMMITS SUICIDE

FULLERTON, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—George Campbell, 72, committed suicide last night at the home of his daughter west of here. He cut his throat with a razor, but failing to inflict fatal injuries, shot himself with a rifle. He was a widower and had been despondent over ill health.

PLAN TO RETURN BROOM WORKERS

Would Assign To Them Portion Of Factory Receipts.

DESHLER, Neb., Jan. 24— (AP) — Broom workers here who have been on strike for two weeks will meet today to consider an agreement under which they could return to work. At a conference yesterday of a committee from the strikers and representatives of the Deshler Broom factory, Inc., an agreement was reached whereby the factory would assign 60 per cent of its daily receipts to a trustee to be appointed by the workers this would be prorated to employes until the sum of wages due them until Jan. 1 is paid in full.

Representatives of the factory signed the proposal and it now will be submitted to the strikers. Meanwhile about 50 of the 275 strikers have returned to their jobs.

Under the plan as many men will be employed as can be taken care of with the remaining 40 per cent of receipts. This will assure a regular monthly payment in full to those given work.

Thomas, stock of First National bank of Omaha, $90,000.

The corporation subscribed for preferred stock without disbursing the amounts up to Nov. 30, in these banks: First National bank of Falls City, $25,000; First National bank of Omaha, $1,000,000; Packers National bank of Omaha, $100,000; American National bank of Sidney, $40,000.

Man Hours Sought For Construction Nebraska Airports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—Increased allocations of man hours will be asked of the civil works administration this week by Rep. Burke of Nebraska to permit airport construction and improvement at the following Nebraska towns:

Broken Bow, Atkinson, Gothenburg, Lexington, Ravenna, St. Paul, Geneva, Grand Island, Bridgeport, Beaver City, Schuyler, Merriman, Crawford, Gordon, Ord, Burwell, Valentine, Stuart, O'Neill, Chappell, Big Spring and Rushville.

Burke said the projects had the approval of W. W. Arrasmith, federal aeronautics supervisor, but had not been approved by the civil works authorities because the quota of man power was exhausted.

FORM ASSOCIATION TO PROTECT GAME

Members of Walton League Set Up New Organization as Auxiliary To the Older One.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—As an auxiliary organization to the state Izaak Walton league, Nebraska sportsmen here Tuesday organized the Nebraska Fish and Game association. The purpose of the organization is to obtain conservation of wild life through legislation.

Annual dues of a dollar will be collected from members. The governing power will be vested in a board of directors, made up of two members from each congressional district.

The session here was called originally for considering a proposal to withdraw from the national Walton league, but this was voted down and the sportsmen's association suggested.

The organizers hope to attract members who wouldn't join the league because of its higher dues. Chet Ager of Lincoln was made temporary chairman of the association.

Waltonians here have been dissatisfied with the league setup for some time. However, after consideration a decision was made to stay with the league and do everything possible to strengthen its activities.

BLATNY GIVEN 3 TO 9 YEARS

Saunders County Man Pleads Guilty Two Arson Charges.

WAHOO, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—Louis L. Blatny, 22, was sentenced by District Judge Harry D. Landis today to 3 to 9 years imprisonment for arson.

Blatny pleaded guilty yesterday to two counts of arson and on each count received an identical sentence to be served concurrently.

Revenge was his motive, said Blatny, a farm hand, for setting fire to barns at the Harold Homer farm near Morse Bluff, in November and again in January. Total losses approximated $5,000. Blatny said the Homers had influenced a girl against him.

LeRossignol Says American Plan Is Better Than Dole

YORK, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—Asserting that uneven distribution of wealth is the cause of the current depression, Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the University of Nebraska school of business administration, last night discussed the national recovery act in an address at the annual dinner of the York commercial club.

He said the dole system as practiced in England would be less expensive than the relief work plan of America as much waste is bound to follow it, but added, Americans favored their plan because the dole tends to pauperize people.

"We should not become alarmed over the public debt," he said.

The raising of wages and shortening of hours to aid purchasing power of the masses, he said, is an appealing theory. However, he asked, where are these increases in wages and salaries and extra expense to come from? The consumer eventually pays all this, the dean added, and "rigidity of salaries and fixed costs is an obstacle to recovery."

CLAIMED BRYAN IS RESPONSIBLE

Big Project Held Up Awaiting Decision On Water.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—Nebraska's two major public works projects, Columbus and Sutherland, were reported today in no serious danger of having their allotments rescinded by the public works administration for failure to put men to work.

A spokesman of the PWA said delay was "not the fault of the applicant" and that the administration's policy would be to "go along with them" for a while.

The Sutherland project was allotted $7,500,000 and the Columbus project $7,300,000 in November. Contracts for both allotments have been signed and Governor Bryan's decision on water rights is understood to be the only factor holding up their immediate undertaking.

Tells Bryan Why.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—Chairman Frank McNinch of the federal power commission said Tuesday that the Columbus power project in Nebraska required a license from the commission because its operation would affect navigation, whereas the Sutherland project would not.

McNinch wrote Governor Bryan of Nebraska "at length," he said, "explaming the differentiation, in response to an inquiry from the governor." The Columbus license has not yet been granted.

"Where a power project on a river is held to affect navigation," McNinch said, "the commission always specifies certain conditions in granting a license. The license terms include requirements prescribed by the war department for the time water can be impounded and when and in what quantities it must be released. That is for protection of navigation which would be seriously hampered below the power dam by irregular storage and release of water."

He explained that the Columbus project would affect navigation in the Missouri river.

BIG INCREASE IN POSTAL SAVINGS

WASHINGTON, aJn. 24— (AP) — Postal savings have had a remarkable growth during the depression.

Harold N. Graves, postoffice department budget officer, testified before the house appropriations committee on the treasury-post office supply bill reported today that:

"On June 30, 1932, deposits totaled $784,820,623; on June 30, 1933, they aggregated $1,187,208; in the same period the number of depositors increased from 1,545,190 to 2,342,133; depository banks increased from 5,102 to 5,521."

LARSON ACQUITTED.

SIOUX FALLS, Jan. 24—(AP)—A. B. Larson, 56, former banker, school treasurer and community leader of Egan, was acquitted of embezzling $56,953 in school funds by a circuit court jury here last night.

FILES FOR OFFICE.

LOUP CITY, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—Miss Cathryn Ling, deputy county clerk of Sherman county has filed as a candidate for the democratic nomination for clerk of the district court.

Liberalize Terms Borrowing Money Federal Land Bank

WASHINGTON, Jan 24—(AP)— C. A. Sorensen, former Nebraska attorney general, said this week the farm credit administration had agreed to extend loans through the Federal Land bank of Omaha on land owned technically by corporations but in reality by individuals.

Sorensen said the administration would permit loans when the title to the land was held by a corporation acting as trustee for "natural persons" who, individually, would be eligible to receive the loans. He said many persons purchased bonds from trust companies on land held technically by the corporation. Such previously had been unable to borrow money on the land through the Federal Land bank.

"The administration also agreed that loans may be made on land by a small number of individuals who have formed a corporation for the management of the farms," Sorensen said. Certain technical qualifications, however, will be required by the land bank."

Protect Fremont Banks From Bandits

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 29—(AP) — To assure maximum protection in case any attempt is made to rob a Fremont bank, the Fremont police force has been juggled so extra men are on duty during the hours robbers usually work. In addition, bank alarm systems are being checked weekly, and a network by which alarms could be spread quickly to nearby towns has been perfected. Police Chief James Sylvis is also advocating formation of citizens' vigilance committee to act in case of robbery.

$17,000,000 LOST BY REDUCTION IN LOCAL MAIL RATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24— (AP) — The postoffice department figures it lost about $17,000,000 by reducing local first class mail to 2 cents and that $60,000,000 more will be missing in the coming fiscal year if the inter-city 3 cent rate isn't maintained.

"We were hoping it (the 2 cent city rate) would result in a stepping up of the volume but the reports which we have received indicated that we have not had that increase in volume," said Senator O'Mahoney, democrat, Wyoming, testifying before the house appropriations committee in his former role of assistant postmaster general.

"The truth of the matter is that the postoffice department may have lost business which it will be difficult to get back, by reason of the general conditions as well as by reason of the policy of some of the larger companies delivering their own mail."

COUNTY 1933 AID EXPENSE $304,353

Relief Cost More Than Total General Fund Prior to 1929.

The first all-inclusive report of Lancaster county's tax-supported relief activities in 1933 was released by County Clerk J. B. Morgan Wednesday. It shows an expenditure of $304,353 from the county's general funds during the year for all charitable purposes.

Morgan's report was prepared in answer to a request from Mrs. Clara C. Clayton, director of the state child welfare bureau, for an itemized account of county relief expenditures to be made a part of the records in her office.

The $304,353 relief expenditure is more than was required for all activities of county government paid for out of the general fund during any year up to 1929. In 1928 total expenditures on the general fund was $300,000. In 1929 it was $307,000. With the coming of the heavy relief load, costs mounted rapidly from 1929 to 1933.

The itemized account:

Food, rent, clothing and fuel	$225,707
Mothers pension	29,405
Blind pension	12,325
Soldiers relief	7,155
Medical care (including medicine	2,952
Hospitalization	5,389
Burials	2,796

CERESCO, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—The explosion of a coal oil heater in the Joe Brown Barber shop today destroyed the furnishings. Brown had just gone to the postoffice and no customers were in the shop.

NO PROCESSING TAX ON CATTLE

Western Men Favor Some Other Plan to Raise Prices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—The cure for the prolonged ailments of the cattle industry, Senator Carey of Wyoming said today will probably not be the much-mentioned processing tax. Representatives of the cattle and dairy industries will confer with officials of the agriculture department Monday.

"It is very likely," said Senator Carey, "there will be no processing tax on cattle. If a tax is imposed payments will be scattered over a period of years and the tax will be so small as to be negligible."

Elmer Brock, Alliance, Neb., cattleman favors a packer agreement. Senator Carey said he believed the situation could be worked out best by permitting the packers to divide the purchasing territory, fix a price based on the price of corn and prorate marketing shipments.

"The packers could be allowed a fair processing profit and at the same time a packers agreement would eliminate destructive competition and waste which holds down prices," said Carey.

Some western representatives believe cattle must be made a basic commodity before the industry can hope for relief.

Senator Carey expressed belief if cattle is made a basic commodity the processing tax will come as a natural result. He said opinions in the department of agriculture differed and no definite plan was yet ready.

WILL PRESENT PLAY.

Fathers Of Weston Man and Wife Die But Few Hours Apar

WAHOO, Neb. Jan. 24—(AP)—Two deaths occurred in the home of Mr and Mrs. Howard Greeley of Weston when both their fathers died within 12 hours. Both had made their home with the Greeleys. Samuel Hartzell, 76, formerly a resident of Lincoln for 50 years, died late Monday of lobar pneumonia. Mrs. Greeley is his only surviving child. Burial will be made in Lincoln Friday.

Peter Greeley, 93, one of the first settlers in Holt county and formerly a resident of near Atkinson, died Tuesday morning of bronchial pneumonia. He was a Civil war veteran, and is survived by two daughters and another son besides Howard. His daughter, Mrs. Bertha G. Brown came from Seattle by airplane Monday to see him and was recognized by him. Burial will be at Atkinson.

Richardson County Has Rabies Scare

FALLS CITY, Jan. 24—(AP)— A quarantine has been established in Richardson county to prevent the spread of rabies among dogs and livestock in the Preston area. County health board members issued an edict that all dogs in the county be confined for 30 days unless vaccinated against rabies.

"Any dog not vaccinated and marked with a tag on the collar may be shot on sight," County Attorney J. H. Falloon said. The action was taken after discovery that a police dog owned by Forrest Johansen, Preston farmer, had bitten many animals before shot to death and examined. The examination revealed the dog had a serious form of rabies.

DEATH AT ALLIANCE.

ALLIANCE, Neb., Jan. 24—(AP)—E. M. Macken, 77, retired rancher, died today at his home in Alliance. Burial will be made here.

Lieut. Gallery, navy flier, was thrown from the cockpit of his plane accidentally when his safety belt loosened while the plane was turning over in a slow roll. He managed to hook the toe of one boot over the cockpit cowling to keep himself from falling. The plane rolled on over with Gallery still hanging on and he was able to pull himself back into the cockpit and land safely.

One of the strangest common fish of the sea is the sun-fish. It lives to a great age, and sometimes weighs a ton. It has little or no fear of man, and is often seen in tropical seas basking itself in the sun. It is almost all head with practically no tail at all. The brain, strange as it seems, is longer than the backbone.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

Scientists investigating the tomb of Tut-Ank-Amen in Egypt have a first class burglar case on their hands—with fingerprints of the criminals but no hopes of making any arrests. The burglary was committed about 3000 years ago and although the fingerprints of the burglars are still plain enough, there is no ancient rogue's gallery where their owners may be identified.

The ancient grave robbers were apparently not much interested in precious metals and gems for these they did not disturb. They took only the oils and ointments which were buried with the king.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

NoCooking! NoWork! Real Saving!

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and it's a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

FROM THE BLACK SEA TO ALBANY.

AMONG the papers filed away by President Roosevelt Tuesday was a strongly worded protest from Governor Lehman of New York state against possible discontinuance of the CWA program next May. It was but one of many indicative of the pressure being brought to give more or less permanent form to a movement intended only as an emergency action to relieve an extremely desperate situation during the winter season of 1933-34. The head of the American Federation of Labor added his voice to the objections against the statement which had been given out by the administration the previous day. Telegrams from all sections of the country have been pouring in.

At this time, it might be well for the public to recognize the exact meaning of CWA expenditures. The money so spent is a direct levy upon the federal treasury. It will not be repaid by the communities into which it goes. While in a sense its distribution, as well as the expenditure of direct relief funds, is based upon sums expended by local communities for relief work, it is not a question of dollar matching. It comes from the federal treasury and it is not to be repaid, except through direct taxation by the federal government. It goes into useful and, in many cases, necessary improvements. It does possess the added virtue of taking people from relief rolls and furnishes them with the opportunity to earn a livelihood.

As an emergency measure, it is one of the most glorious achievements of a brilliant struggle against the miseries of depression. As a permanent national policy, it might well become destructive of American tradition, menacing to the future of the nation, and the opening wedge toward a program far removed from that which President Roosevelt has in mind. As a permanent national policy, it might endanger all of the progress made, and place in the hands of the American conservatives, the package of dynamite they desire in order to blow up the Roosevelt program. It might lead America into Britain's folly or even worse. This country in the next twelve months will spend 7 billions to prime the pump. It will pour out money more lavishly than ever before in history in order to rebuild purchasing power and give impetus to the wheels of private industry and business. It will do all of this under the program originally outlined by the president. There need be no doubt of a pickup in enterprise next spring and summer when all of these vast sums of money find their way into the active channels of trade.

NOT often is it possible to agree with the Saturday Evening Post, reflecting seemingly the entrenched interests of the industrial oligarchy which dominated national affairs for more than a decade, in its searing and blistering attacks upon the Roosevelt administration. This particular paragraph, appearing in its editorial column in the current issue, is worthy of thought:

> "We waste valuable time when we say with great indignation that wealth is unfairly distributed and, having said it, stop at that point in our thinking. We waste time when we conjure up artificial schemes of redistribution. But we waste no time when we seek to enforce the laws that make for honesty and that punish dishonesty. There are a thousand things which can be done to make the distribution of wealth fairer, although when all of them are done, men cannot be given equal endowment physically or mentally. It is much easier to talk and act as if some new trick of phrase could do the job. Merely enforcing codes of morality, of ethics, of fair practice, or even enforcing existing laws is dull, hard work, and that is something which most people do not enjoy."

It is much easier for business itself to sit back and let the government assume the responsibility of putting people back to work—that is, it is easier for a time. Then business is not gambling, it believes, with its trade. It is not expressing its hope, its belief, or its faith in the future. It is sliding as close to the shore as is humanly possible; playing it safe, to use a more common expression. Business today should be planning what it can do to augment the heroic efforts of the government toward revival of economic currents in this country. Individuals, possessed of means, large or small, should be planning to do what they can to make it possible for America to continue as a country along reverenced traditions embodied and embraced in the American constitution. If this country believes in the system of private industry and business, if it believes in a modified individualism such as has been in existence since the beginning, it must recognize that the implication contained in demands upon the president suggest the challenge is taking definite concrete form now as against generalities heretofore. In short, is the emergency to be the permanent program? When is it to be discontinued? Should not a limit be set? The most seductive, the most intriguing temptation is what appears now as the easiest method of providing employment. For these people must work. They must have the opportunity to earn a livelihood, and a decent one. Millions of them are innocent victims entitled to the fullest sympathy. Is private enterprise to assume its responsibility, or will it undertake to unload it on the government at its own destruction?

THERE should be a sympathetic understanding of the Roosevelt position. If in May, circumstances are such that the CWA cannot be discontinued, the president has given ample evidence of human qualities that he will not permit distress and misery to become the common lot of millions. Against his desire and his wish, he will draw on the federal treasury again.

But it cannot go on and on indefinitely, unless what we have said are American institutions of government crumble. Private enterprise must do its part, must respond to the stimulus, or it will fall.

We must not destroy the spirit of thrift in this country. In the redistribution of wealth, there must be a quality of superwisdom to avoid the same pitfalls which destroyed other civilizations. We must remember that our woes were very much of our own making in dishonest practices. And we should remember that it is not a waste of time to seek to enforce laws which make for honesty and which punish dishonesty. We must recognize that morality, ethics, and fair practice represent dull, hard work, which does not open the door to quick, easy, and enormous profits. All of these simple precepts are known so generally, so commonly understood that it would seem unnecessary to present them.

On the train from Moscow a few years ago was an attractive young Russian woman on her way to the shores of the Black sea to spend a short vacation. She had saved some money. A traveling companion asked her if she ever gave thought to old age, to which she replied:

"No. The government will provide for me."

Somewhere in between that extreme view and the radical stand of the rugged individualist has been the happy meeting ground of America, and President Roosevelt is making a really noble effort of heroic stature to keep us from wandering from the path which leads to it.

HE STARTED FROM SCRATCH.

FROM a tiny bicycle shop in the '90s, "Had" Sidles, whose death occurred Tuesday afternoon, built up vast business enterprises. For the older generation, at least, it isn't necessary to revive the picture of those bicycle establishments which were so popular in those days. They didn't contain the possibility of a great business career. They were the center of interest for the youngsters and some of the elders, but that about said it all.

Mr. Sidles branched from the bicycle business to the automotive industry. He was one of its pioneer leaders. He was one who saw its great potentialities. He built a great automobile business and it made him a wealthy man. In his life and in his business career, there may be seen that story which always is fascinating in America. It is the story of the man possessed of vision to see opportunity—and to seize it. We say now, just as we said then, that opportunity has disappeared, and yet each week and each month brings to attention incontrovertible evidence that such is not the case. It may be seen in the life of Mr. Sidles, without extensive schooling, except that which he acquired himself, who, keenly alert to modern development and to shifting habits of the American people, built great enterprises by anticipating their needs and their wants.

He was a valuable man to the community. He invested his money by constructing splendid buildings and by creating businesses which provided employment for scores of others. He gave generously to deserving undertakings. He was interested particularly in the Hi-Y organization at the Lincoln High school and spent considerable sums for its maintenance. He was cheery, warm-hearted, and sympathetic in his contacts with people. Most of all, he symbolized the miracle of an American boy who starts from scratch and through his own efforts rises to the top.

ANOTHER BLACK EYE FOR HUEY.

IT APPEARS from the outcome of the New Orleans municipal primary that Senator Huey Long has definitely lost political control of that city, which enabled him to maintain his personal dictatorship of the state of Louisiana. The senator's ticket polled less than one-third of all the votes cast. That is quite a comedown from conditions heretofore, when New Orleans constituted the bulwark of Huey's machine in the state. He has been repudiated in his own stronghold.

Mayor Walmsley's organization, which was allied with Long in the past, rolled up a commanding lead for its slate in spite of all the senator could do. Even the independent third ticket ran fairly close with Huey's. Should a runoff primary be required, it is quite certain that the present city administration will win.

Meanwhile, out in the rural districts of Louisiana, the revolt against Long grows more formidable every day. The handwriting on the wall forecasts the crumbling of his political kingdom. The man who was credited with an ambition to make himself a national dictator cannot even hold his grip on his own city and state.

Huey went up like a skyrocket; then he exploded into a shower of sparks; and now the dead stick is starting its fall back to earth.

DR. R. H. WOLCOTT.

A DISTINGUISHED scientific career did not prevent Robert H. Wolcott, chairman of the department of zoology at the University of Nebraska, who died Tuesday evening, from taking a lively interest in the ordinary affairs of life. He was a brilliant and versatile man, with an unusual gift of winning and commanding the highest respect of his students.

By choice a scientist, Dr. Wolcott loved outdoor life. Particularly he was interested in birds, and made exhaustive study and research until he became one of the best authorities on bird life in this section of the country. He found pleasure in the woods and the flowers, and each summer spent a portion of his time in continuing his studies of them.

He was active in church and in civic matters.

By nature reticent and retiring, he was nevertheless extremely companionable, an interesting and charming conversationalist, and an inspiring teacher for young people. His long connection with the University of Nebraska, since 1895, a stretch of just short of forty years, reflects a marked contribution to the institution and a definite influence in moulding thought in the state.

MOTOR VEHICLE TITLE RECORDS ESSENTIAL.

THERE could be no other logical decision than the one the Nebraska supreme court handed down in a case from Douglas county, holding that title to an automobile can be transferred from one person to another only by means of a written instrument.

No one would contend otherwise in the case of real estate, as to which the law requires documentary evidence of ownership in the form of a deed, a government patent, or a court decree. There is equally good reason for a similar regulation regarding motor vehicles.

In the first place, an automobile cannot be legally operated until the owner has procured a license for the machine, and also a driver's permit authorizing him to run it. These licenses constitute public records available in case of accident resulting in death, injury, or property damage, or in the event a car is stolen from its rightful owner or used in committing a crime. Without them, anyone found in possession of a motor vehicle is liable to arrest. Public policy demands that ownership be thus subject to check and confirmation at any time.

It follows that the law cannot recognize the giving of an automobile by one person to another by word of mouth. In the Douglas county suit, the supposed donor was dead and it would have been impossible to verify by his testimony whether or not he had actually given it to the claimant.

SHAKESPEARE ON THE SCREEN.

SHAKESPEARE on the screen? That is a question over which much blood might foolishly be spilled.

One producer breathes an emotional "Yes." Another snorts an unsoftened "No." Actors like John Barrymore, who have played Shakespeare, insist that no drawback of antique language could overshadow the superiority of the Bard of Avon over the "trash" of modern movies. And so the battle rages.

A few pertinent facts should be exposed. The first and most important is that Shakespeare is so timeless that some of his most fervent admirers have presented plays like "Hamlet" in modern clothing. The late Robert Mantell devoted a half century of his life to enacting Shakespeare plays. He, whose loyalty to the bard was unquestioned, played Hamlet in modern evening garb. He enjoyed the experience and so did the audience.

On the other hand, those who will oppose Shakespeare on the screen will find their best argument in the fear of what alterations Hollywood directors might make in a Shakespearean play to fit it into their stereotyped ideas of production.

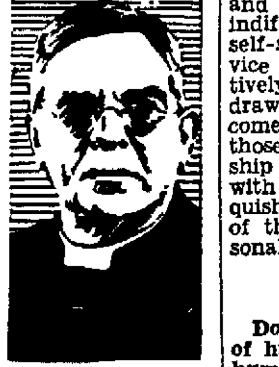
QUESTION.

Oakland, Cal.

I have a friend who is as fixed as can be in his own ideas. He is hard to know and I often feel impatient with him. What can I do about it?

ANSWER.



You do not state what his ideas are, and until those are known an intelligent answer is impossible. Does he maintain what he believes to be right or stand for what is generally acknowledged to be wrong? In the former case stick to him, since you get more from him than you give to him. Sturdy men and women who will not run with the herd, nor desert principles for policies, nor live by expediency alone, are the moral fortress of the nation.

The Apocrypha has in it a passage found in the second book of Esdras: "Then began I to commend them that stood so stiffly in the name of the Lord." Stiffness is not a popular virtue, but at its worst it is better than spinelessness, better than tolerant amiability, better than being in and out, or on and off, according to every shifting wind that blows.

Clean-cut, definite convictions are as necessary for life as a steel prow is to an Atlantic liner. They drive one through the accumulated mass of cynicism and indifference and clear the way for resolute action. Such convictions, however, require clear and thoughtful conceptions of life and its purposes. Hazy opinions often end in moral wreckage for men and nations. Therefore if your friend is "fixed" in the right direction, cling to him and follow on.

QUESTION.

Dayton, O.

Is there any real danger that communism will win out in Europe or even in America?

ANSWER.

Such a possibility exists, but it is hardly probable so far as our country is concerned. In any case, its sole preventive is genuine religion. Millions of devotees have made Karl Marx their apostle, and Soviet Russia looks to Lenin as its new savior. In fact, for these people, who are found everywhere, communism is a religion. They are ready to fight and die for it and have no fear but that it will ultimately prevail.

As a matter of statistics, there have been more converts to socialism since its beginning than to Christianity during the same period. As "Zion's Herald," an excellent religious weekly published in Boston, recently observed, "It is a case of Christianity versus communism. Let us make no mistake about it. These are the two great rivals now occupying the center of the stage of human history. Which is going to win? We must be honest. The communists, still in the flush of the victory of 1917, are filled with enthusiasm for their cause. In their fanatical zeal for man's redemption by Marxian methods they are seeking converts and consolidating their gains with a devotion which frequently outdistances even that of Christian ministers and missionaries."

I advise all adherents to the religions of the Bible, both Jewish and Christian, to put away their indifference, and if they have any self-surrender and sacrificial service in them to exhibit these actively to the world. The lines are drawn, and their demarcation becomes clearer every day. Unless those who profess Christ's discipleship are ready to go the whole way with Him, they may have to relinquish the moral and social guidance of the nations and also their personal rights and properties.

QUESTION.

Evanston, Ill.

Does geography decide the course of history and dictate the types of human character we find, as for example, between the peoples of the North and those of the South?

ANSWER.

Doubtless geographical location has had much to do with the development of our principal characteristics. But your verbs demand more than is possible and "decide" and "dictate" are too inclusive. Other and more important factors enter into the question. If Plato's story of "Atlantis," that fabled island between the United States and Europe, had been anything other than an imaginary description, what different paths our ancestors might have followed. Had Ireland and Spain been as near our mainland as Nantucket island their proximity could scarcely have failed to affect America and Europe profoundly.

However, this is scarcely your question, since you apparently want to know what is the influence of geography on history. Read H. B. George's volume on the subject, or if you cannot get a copy of that interesting work, consult the catalogue of the nearest library for Ellsworth Huntington's excellent book, "Civilization and Climate." Miss Semple also has written on the influence of land and sea on human development.

North and south produce after their kind in nearly every land, our own included. The diversities of customs and language and of political and social theories above and below the Mason and Dixon line are familiar enough. In Great Britain, speech is more brusque in Northumberland than in Sussex. Sterling grit and fundamental traits are common to all sections. Yet in many instances men of the hills are prone to steadfastness of purpose, while those of the valleys are more liable to change.

Of course these generalizations are not universally applicable. The prairies no less than the mountains have had their famous characters and the flat middle states of this republic are at present the most influential ones in relation to what we call Americanism.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

SUGAR FIRST THING TO ADD TO DIET OF THE NEW BABY

The first thing that is added to the milk mixture for feeding the new-born baby is sugar in some form. As we saw yesterday, cow's milk contains about half as much sugar as mother's milk, and in order to give enough nutritive value to nourish the baby and give it energy to grow, this extra amount must be added.

The kind of sugar added is not of very great importance. Ordinary table sugar, granulated sugar, is used in many free clinics exclusively, and the babies thrive just as well on that as with more fancy forms.

Dextrine and maltose are considered to be more digestible than granulated table or cane sugar, and this accounts for the popularity of the special infant's foods. However, these sugars can be obtained just as well in ordinary syrup.

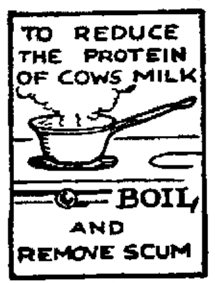
TO INCREASE SUGAR. ADD, TWO TABLESPOONFULS SUGAR CORN SYRUP OR DEXTRIN-MALTOSE

To the pint of milk, therefore, that a new-born baby of average weight (eight pounds) requires a day, must be added either two tablespoons of granulated sugar, corn syrup, or a dextrine-maltose mixture.

Evaporated milk has found much favor of late years in place of cow's milk. Evaporated milk is not to be confused with condensed milk. It is prepared by heating fresh mixed herd milk in a partial vacuum until about 60 per cent of the water is removed. The residue is treated in such a way that the fat globules are broken up and do not rise to the surface as cream. This mixture is put in cans and can be purchased at drug stores or grocery stores.



TO REDUCE THE PROTEIN OF COWS MILK
BOIL AND REMOVE SCUM

In preparing it for infant's use, the water content must be again restored, so that the formula would be:

Evaporated milk	10 ounces
Sugar	2 ounces
Water	20 ounces

Evaporated milk is always clean and appears to be more digestible than whole cow's milk.

QUESTION.

I have heard that wheat contains 17 different salts and minerals. Is this so and will you please name them?

ANSWER.

The minerals contained in wheat are as follows: Calcium, magnesium, potassium, sodium, phosphorus, chlorine, sulphur, iron and traces of silicon.

Just Folks

LITTLE GIRLS' BEDTIME

Little girls just turned eleven
Should go to bed at half-past seven.
But generally they incline
To staying up till half-past nine.
The dreadfuliest of every dread time
To lovely little girls is bedtime.

At evening Janet's strength will rally
To find some way to dilly-dally.
Her active little mind produces
Innumerable strange excuses
Designed in one way or another
To get an extra hour from mother.

So filled her world with joy and gladness
Sleeping to Janet seems like madness.
Unwearied yet by care or grieving
She hates the very thought of leaving
The earth for just a single minute,
So much there is that's lovely in it.

Though little girls just turned eleven
Should go to bed at half-past seven
I find they generally incline
To staying up till half-past nine.
Which proves that nothing drab or dreary
Has spoiled their lives or made them weary.

Marsh Needs CWA Job, Thomas Says; No Investigation

Vance E. Thomas, director of the Lancaster county federal re-employment bureau, denied Wednesday that any invstigation was being made or contemplated on Frank Marsh, former secretary of state and aspirant for another term, who holds a CWA job. "I can see no need of an investigation," Thomas said. "Mr. Marsh was hired in the usual routine way and it was determined that he was badly in need of a job before he was placed on the CWA payroll.

Thomas said Marsh was working as a timekeeper and tabulator on a traffic survey project. "He has two dependents and has been at wrok for some time," Thomas declared. "There is no investigation and there will be none."

Judge Paine To Speak At Community Center

State Supreme Court Judge Bayard H. Paine will lead the Whittier community center discussion group Wednesday night on "What We May Expect in 1934." Thursday evening a general games tournament is scheduled while at Everett center a movie, "Thundering Hoofs," featuring Fred Thomson and the wonder horse 'Silver King' will be shown. This film will also be shown at Whittier Friday night, and again on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock for children. The evening shows begin at 7 30 and children will not be admitted unless they sit with their parents it was announced.

At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon the movie will be shown for the Phyllis Wheatley center at the Whittier building.

The White Terror

Those most we fear whom least we know.
'Tis ignorance that makes fear grow.
—Old Mother West Wind.

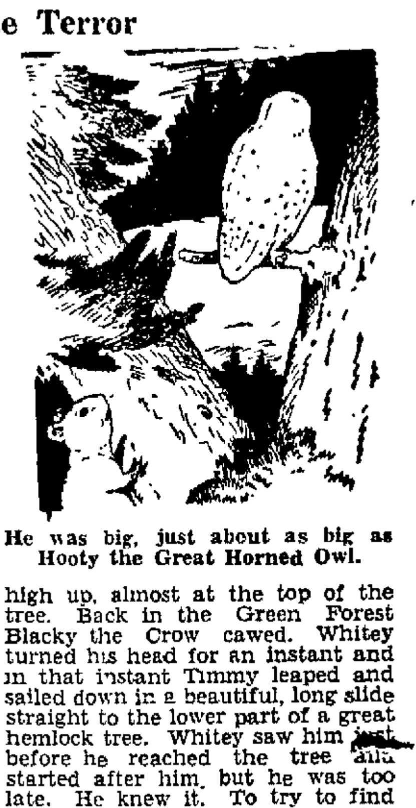
With his heart going thumpity-thump, thumpetity thump, Timmy the Flying Squirrel peered around the trunk of the tree to which he was slinging that he might locate this new enemy who had so nearly caught him. He didn't have to look far or wait long. Whitey the Snowy Owl, having missed in that first swoop, had checked his flight, turned and alighted in the very next tree.

He was big, just about as big as Hooty the Great Horned Owl. Now that he was so near, Timmy could see that his white coat was marked with small, dark spots so scattered that at a little distance they did not show and the coat seemed to be pure white. Even his feet were feathered, the great curved claws almost hidden by them. Just looking at his feet you would have known that this fellow was used to snow and ice.

But Timmy wasn't thinking of this. He shivered as he saw those great claws peeping out from those white feathers. It wasn't cold that made him shiver. No, sir, it wasn't cold. It was fear. That is what it was, fear. Timmy didn't move. Neither did Whitey. The latter's big, dark eyes were fixed on that part of the tree to the opposite side of which Timmy was clinging. Whitey was waiting for Timmy to move and Timmy didn't dare move. So they remained motionless. It looked as if it would be a case of which had the most patience.

Meanwhile Hairy the Woodpecker had been watching from behind another tree. You remember he had been chasing Timmy at the time of Whitey's sudden appearance. Now all Hairy's anger against Timmy was gone. He actually felt glad when he saw Timmy escape those cruel claws reaching for him. Here was a common danger and that made all the difference in the world. Hairy remained as motionless as the others.

After a long time he noticed that Timmy was moving very, very slowly, just a wee bit at a time, a long pause between each move. He was climbing up that tree and taking the greatest care to keep the trunk between him and Whitey. He didn't even peek around to watch his enemy lest he should be seen. Up he moved little by little, little by little. Once his claws made just the faintest sound. Instantly the great white Owl's head turned so that he looked up, for his wonderful ears had caught that faint sound. Timmy didn't move again for some time and gradually Whitey settled back as before.



He was big, just about as big as Hooty the Great Horned Owl.

So Timmy climbed and at last was high up, almost at the top of the tree. Back in the Green Forest Blacky the Crow cawed. Whitey turned his head for an instant and in that instant Timmy leaped and sailed down in a beautiful, long slide straight to the lower part of a great hemlock tree. Whitey saw him just before he reached the tree and started after him, but he was too late. He knew it. To try to find Timmy among the thick-growing branches of that tree would be useless. He kept on past the tree and soon disappeared.

"Thank goodness!" exclaimed Hairy the Woodpecker, and he, too, took to his wings and he headed straight for his home. Not until he was safe inside that would he feel absolutely safe. As for Timmy, he remained in that hemlock tree until he was certain that Whitey really was nowhere about. Then he, too, made his way home and sighed with thankfulness as he curled up in his warm bed. When night came he remained at home. He didn't have to go out and for this he was truly thankful.

Meanwhile others had seen Whitey and the news had spread swiftly through the Green Forest that a new enemy was among them, one difficult to see, because like his surroundings, he was all white. And because they knew little about him a great fear took possession of the little people so that they scarcely dared venture out of their homes, and the feathered folk were as fearful as the furred folk. You see, they knew so little about this visitor from the Far North that they feared him even more than was necessary.

Comments On Arnold Speech.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 22

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I saw a statement Dr. Charles Arnold made in a speech before the Knife and Fork club, where he related some of his observances, experiences and impressions during his recent visit in Austria.

Among others, he stated that the union or Anschluss between Austria and Germany is going to take place in the near future. Well, that rests only with the gods and is a very problematical affair. Let us see, if such a union should take place, I am afraid it would be the cause of another war, because France and the little Entente and Poland would not like it and would fight. Why, only last autumn, a prominent club woman on her return from Europe said, "If Germany and Austria will form an Anschulss, France will fight."

I cannot go into details, but anyone interested in that question can get two volumes in the library, published in 1931, "War Clouds Over Europe," by E. Alexander Powell and "Can Europe Keep Peace," by Frank Simonds.

The situation has not improved any since 1930, so the same danger prevails and the same complications today, arise.

I, myself, was born and raised in the former old Austro-Hungarian empire and lived there until my twenty-fifth year, although I am not of Germanic blood but of a Slavic one.

But speaking from a neutral standpoint, how much better it would be for the people within the borders that once was, the old Austrian empire, and for the peace of the whole world, if the nations could only weld and pool their resources together and agree and live in peace for their own good, and for the peace of the world in general. To trade with one another, pull down the boundary barrier, live in amity and good will, for their own good, their development and prosperity.

What a pity, how the old empire was carved up at the so-called peace tables, into small nations which are too small to exist independently and economically. Well, such is human nature, likes to agree to disagree, and the consequences may be disastrous some day, perhaps in the near future.

Father Puts Pair Of Dice To Good Use

Employs Ancient Game to Instruct Daughter In Arithmetic.

WELL, there are ways and ways, so it seems, of teaching one's offspring the rudiments of arithmetic. We know a man, a very tall, dark and popular man, who is teaching his small daughter how to add, subtract and what have you, by throwing dice.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT of offspring — we would very much like to know what young Miller Whitham, son of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Whitham, has in mind for the future—whether he is to be a chef or a bandmaster. Young Miller's chief indoor sport is to take all of the pots and pans out of his mother's pantry and jingle and pound and beat them to his heart's content. There's food for the psychological mind.

HAYNES CONFERS ON CWA SCALES

Discusses Nebraska Work Program; $575,000 Relief Granted.

Federal Relief Agent Rowland Haynes is at Washington to confer with National Administrator Hopkins and other officials there.

Among the matters he will discuss with his superiors is future allotments for civil works and relief needs in Nebraska, the continuance or termination of present activities, and the advisability of fixing loer minimum wage rates on CWA projects in this part of the country to bring them in line with the current rates paid by private employers.

A telegram received from Washington says that the $575,000 asked for by Haynes to cover relief needs and "civil works service" projects in Nebraska during March has been allowed in full.

When Haynes returns, decision will be made on when M. A. Jones and other engineers, loaned by the state highway department to check up on CWA projects, will return to their regular duties. The original arrangement was for only the mid-winter period when highway department activities are slack.

A special allotment of $500 for materials to be used on a federal monument project in Scotts Bluff county has just been made by Engineer Jones

Benton Appointment Breaks Feud Between Condit, State Sheriff

Succession of Fred Benton to the post of state sheriff has apparently inaugurated an era of good will between the state sheriff's office and Chief of Police William C Condit

No sooner had Governor Bryan announced that Benton would succeed Michael Endres as state sheriff when Chief Condit called up the new appointee to offer congratulations. Thus was broken the icy barrier between the two law enforcement agencies resulting from the rivalry between Chief Condit, former state sheriff, and Endres.

Then Wednesday, Sheriff Benton wired his best wishes to Condit president of the Nebraska State Sheriff's association in annual convention at Grand Island. Benton said he expects to attend the convention Thursday, when he is scheduled to speak.

Benton's friendship with Condit dates from ten or more years ago, when Benton was sheriff of Dawson county and Condit was sheriff of Dodge county At that time Benton nominated Condit for president of the sheriff's association and he was elected, his first term.

'BOOTLEG' MILK IS CONFISCATED

Arnholt Says Unlicensed Vendors Hunted As Health Measure.

A case of "bootleg" milk and cream was confiscated Tuesday evening by Superintendent of Health M. F. Arnholt, and Chief Dairy Inspector Roy Kohler, when they caught Clarence King, a Raymond farmer, delivering a bottle of alleged uninspected milk at a Lincoln residence.

"I am only trying to protect the public," Dr. Arnholt declared. "For all I know this milk may be perfectly good, but there is a case of typhoid fever in Lincoln which is causing me considerable worry, and if I can stamp out a number of milk "bootleggers" who are selling their produce at reduced rates, I may be able to trace the illness to its source."

Dr. Arnholt said a warrant would be sworn out against Mr. King, charging violation of the milk ordinance. Bottles must be labeled with the date, grade of the milk, and the name of the dairy—all of which were lacking on the King bottles, Dr. Arnholt declared.

Report King Confesses.

About 35 quarts of milk had been delivered to Lincoln customers by Mr. King when he was stopped by the health department authorities, Dr. Arnholt said He added that King admitted that he had been selling Jersey milk without authority for almost a year, because of dissatisfaction over the price paid by local dairies.

"I have been urged repeatedly by members of the public health advisory council to stop bootlegging of milk," Dr. Arnholt said, "as a measure of ridding the city of all possible chances of contagion. To do this, every bottle of milk and cream sold in Lincoln must be inspected and labelled as required by the city ordinances."

The ordinance regulating the distribution of milk and cream here permits the ownership of not more than two cows for the production of a supply for private consumption. "This, however, does not allow the owner to distribute the surplus to his neighbors," according to the superintendent of health

BOARD CONTROL TO BUILD SOON

Three Grant Agreements Come From Washington for Signing.

Construction work on three board of control projects for which PWA grants were recently approved was a step nearer Wednesday with th arrival from Washington of grant agreements to be entered into by the board for the state and the public works administration

Assistant Attorny General Wright, who is handling the matters as attorney for the board, said, howver, that the amount originally granted on two of the projects was cut, while the third was raised slightly. He is waiting arrival of the agreement on a fourth application which has been approved. The agreements must be signed by Mrs Nellie G. Benson, chairman of the board and then returned to Washington for final signature there before bids can be asked.

The agreements received Wednesday cover the grant on the dormitory at the Beatrice feeble minded institute, the Norfolk laundry building and the Lincoln state hospital addition. The agreement on the grant for the addition to the Lincoln home for dependent children did not arrive.

Wright said the PWA reduced the grant on the Beatrice project from the $28,000 asked to $22,900, a cut of $5,100. A matter of $469 was lopped off the grant asked for the Norfolk building, making it an even $8,000. Two hundred dollars was added to the amount asked for the Lincoln state hospital project, however, bringing it to an even $9,000.

The board asked a grant of $13,690 for the home for dependent children and the application has been approved. A project at the Hastings hospital still is awaiting PWA approval.

Mrs. Benson said that architects final plans will be ready in a week or ten days, so that bids on the construction can be called as soon as the agreements are signed by the PWA at Washington and returned.

State Laboratory Gets Free Rabbits From Worried Parents

Ordinarily it costs Nebraska's state health laboratory $1 to $1.50 blood tests and other experimental apiece for rabbits used in making work; but a few days ago Supt. L Vose received a couple of bunnies fro mWymore as a gift to his establishment. They were white rabbits too, a particularly desirable variety for these purposes.

The way it came about was that a child at Wymore had been bitten by one of several rabbits which the family owned. The parents promptly killed the one which inflicted the wound and then, fearing the possibility of rabies, sent these two into the state laboratory with a request to ascertain whether or not they might have been infected with th disease

"And you needn't send them back," was their added message.

Supt. Vose kept the animals segregated a sufficient length of time to make sure they did not have rabies, and then notified the anxious parents that they had nothing to worry about.

BIDS ON TENT FLOORS.

Bids will be received February 7 at the national guard headquarters here for construction of concrete tent floors at the Ashland guard camp Adjutant General H. J Paul said Wednesday. The work is being financed by a federal PWA grant

Lone Male Entrant Captures Honors In Center Quilt Show

Quilts of all descriptions, 140 of them, including some made by men and one which dates back to pre-Revolutionary war days, were shown at Whittier community center Tuesday evening, when over 350 persons crowded the assembly room for glimpses at the artistic pieces

The oldest exhibit was the quilt shown by Mrs. Frank Smith, which she said was made in 1760. A hand-woven and hand-carded blanket, shown by Mrs Charles Poage, and an apliqued piece by Mrs Stella Fisher were other prize winners.

The best embroidered one was shewn by Mrs Marian Hulbert, and the most attractive by Mrs. W. H. Dunkak.

Not to be outdone by the women exhibitors, George Roy, the only male quilter, walked off with honors for the best display He had eight samples of his work, including hand-painted satin, embroidered, velvet and ribbon-made bed pieces.

The show was under the supervision of Mrs L O Swan and Mrs Mabel Cobbey, instructor and director of the center.

Youth Downs Old Master to Even Net Series

Vines Too Good For Big Bill Tilden In Mile High City Duel

DENVER, Jan. 24—(INS)—Ellsworth Vines, who recently turned professional, was enroute to his native California today after scoring a brilliant victory over William T. Tilden, 6-2, 1-6, 12-10, in a hard-fought tennis match in the City auditorium here last night. The long-legged California youth and the famous old master struggled long and hard over their third set. At least eight times, Tilden had but one point to make in order to win, and failed. Each was winning his serve. It was not until Vines broke through to win one of Tilden's that the deadlock was broken.

Series Stands Even.

Vines' win here last night was his fourth victory over Tilden during the present tour of the country and the series now stands even.

Vines served many aces on Tilden during the night's play, prolonged rallies, in which the two drove the ball back and forth across the net with dizzying speed, kept the spectators on edge.

Vincent Richards, veteran pro, played a beautiful backcourt game in defeating Bruce Barnes, former Texas university star, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

Because of the long time spent on the Vines-Tilden match, the doubles match was cut to one set. Tilden and Barnes defeated Richards and Vines, 7-5.

Two thousand Denver tennis followers witnessed the matches. The Tilden-Vines party left today for San Francisco, where they will resume their duel next Friday night.

Vines Sued for Big Money.

DENVER, Jan. 24—(INS)—Ellsworth Vines, Jr., newest luminary of the professional tennis galaxy, today labeled as "a publicity stunt" the $250,000 damage suit filed in Los Angeles yesterday against Vines, William T. Tilden, William O'Brien and the Tilden Tours, Inc., by Norman L. Sper, Hollywood sports syndicate operator, for alleged breach of oral contract.

"Since there can be no possible basis for the breach of contract suit filed by Sper, I am inclined to view his action as a clever gesture to obtain nationwide publicity," said Vines, who defeated Tilden here last night in the eighth stanza of their cross-country tour.

A two-year contract with Sper for newspaper syndication of tennis stories under Vines' name expired two months ago and their business association had terminated amicably, Vines said.

Denies Agreement.

"While I discussed various possibilities with Sper during the period of our contract, there never was any agreement, understanding or verbal contract between us regarding my activities after the expiration of our contract," Vines asserted. "Sper's suit is 'over my head' and I just can't understand what he is driving at unless he is making a bid for publicity. But I'll know more about it when we reach Los Angeles."

Sper, in his suit, alleged that, under an oral contract, he had planned a nationwide tour for Vines and Tilden and already had arranged for distribution of publicity when he was discharged by Vines.

Both Tilden and O'Brien, who is managing the present tour, said they had met and talked with Sper once, but not in connection with the tennis tour.

Discredits Sper's Suit.

"Together with O'Brien, I was introduced to Sper by Vines in Los Angeles one morning last year," Tilden said. "My understanding was that Sper was a friend and adviser of Vines and not his manager. However, no business was discussed at the meeting."

"Sper had nothing whatever to do with arranging the cross-country tour of Vines and Tilden," O'Brien asserted.

"After Tilden had discussed with Vines the possibility of Vines becoming a professional during a conference in Los Angeles last March, we met Sper with Vines at breakfast the next morning. Vines explained that Sper was working with him on syndicated newspaper stories and Vines' future in tennis was not discussed at the meeting, nor did Tilden or myself ever have further contact with Sper."

FANS DEMANDING MAX AND PRIMO

J. Public Not Satisfied With Anything Less, Says Hoffman.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 24—(INS)—"There's only one match the public wants now and that's a Baer-Carnera fracas."

In these words, Ancil Hoffman, Max's manager, waved aside a telegraphic challenge issued by Jack Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, for a bout between the garrulous gob and the handsome Californian, who is doing four-a-day in vaudeville.

"The people want a championship battle between Baer and the titleholder," said Hoffman. "There is no other out possible that could be called a real championship affair now."

Declines Bow to Garden.

Baer's manager made it plain he is not going to let Madison Square Garden force him into a match at Garden terms, simply by reference to plans "to build up" Kingfish Levinsky as a logical contender.

"Baer has beaten Levinsky twice and each time decisively," Hoffman added.

"We are going to fight Carnera, and we are going to refuse at the same time to let Madison Square Garden dictate to us, as well as take a mortgage on Max's future, too."

Smiling and taking it all in, Baer listened to "Pop" Hoffman. He denied that he was not in fighting trim.

Promoter On Baer's Trail.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—(INS)—Lou Daro, Pacific coast fight and wrestling promoter, is on his way to Baltimore today with Max Schmeling's signed contract in his pocket and in his mind a determination to sign up Max Baer to fight the German on the coast.

Daro will have to do plenty of talking today to induce Baer to lower his demand for $75,000, which is what he wants to give Schmeling a return battle. Daro believes the bout would draw $250,000 on the coast.

CHAMPS HARD PUT TO BEAT MIDLAND

FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 24—Tulsa Oilers fast A.A.U. team, scored six points in the last three minutes to defeat Midland in a thrilling basketball game last night, 23-21. The game drew a crowd of more than a thousand spectators.

Pickell, 6 foot-6 inch center, shot the winning basket in the last 15 seconds.

Kearney Repeats Win.

KEARNEY, Neb., Jan. 24—Kearney Teachers had three victories and no defeats in the N. I. A. A. basketball campaign today, the Antelopes having made it two straight at Chadron expense. Kearney beat the Eagles last night, 54-30. Karney led 25-16 at the half.

SOONERS DRILL FOR TRIP NORTH

Oklahomans Prepare Play Kansas State and Nebraska.

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 24—Stan Tyler and Jerome Needy are being groomed by Coach Hugh McDermott for the running guard assignment on the University of Oklahoma basketball squad for the games against Kansas State and Nebraska at Manhattan and Lincoln, Friday and Saturday.

With Bud Browning, all "Big Six" guard, in the infirmary recovering from a groin nijury that required five stitches, the Sooner mentor is busy developing a replacement for Browning. Harold LeCrone, veteran guard of last season, who has been out with influenza most of the season, also will see service against the Wildcats and Huskers.

"LeCrone played a good game against the Oklahoma Aggies last week," says McDermott.

With Browning out, Oklahoma's "quick break" attack may lose much of its effectiveness, for Browning probably is the fastest breaking guard ever developed at Oklahoma and usually rushes the ball up floor for the Sooners. Consequently, the Oklahoma attack against Kansas State and Nebraska may be more deliberate.

Injury Healing Nicely.

Browning's injury is healing nicely and if no complications develop the injured guard may put on a suit this week end and work lightly in preparation for the important games with the Missouri Tigers here Feb. 2 and 3.

Oklahoma could very easily lose both road games this week-end. Kansas State is undefeated in conference play on its own court at Manhattan. Similarly, the Cornhuskers have yet to taste a conference defeat on their home court at Lincoln, having defeated Kansas, conference champions the past three years, 24 to 21, there.

With final examinations over, members of the Oklahoma squad will toil hard this week trying to make the squad of nine men that will start north Thursday. Main, Bross, LeCrone, Munson, Hays, Tyler, Warren and Needy are almost sure to go, with a ninth man taking Browning's place.

Brass Tacks by Cy Sherman

INFORMATION oozes out of Big Ten circles that Dick Hanley, head of the department of gridironolgy at Northwestern U., is far from being miffed at the new conference rule which requires Big Ten mentors to confine their coaching activities strictly to tutoring their own squads.

The rule in question, if in force last year, would have prohibited Hanley and his associate at Northwestern, Athletic Director "Tug" Wilson, from engaging in that private venture in connection with the Chicago fair of last summer, when they sponsored an East-West game and thereby cleaned up a handsome profit.

The same rule would have forbidden Hanley to renew his arrangement with Andy Kerr of Colgate whereby the pair coached the East team which lost to the West, 0-12, in the New Year's day charity game in San Francisco.

Hanley's connection with the East-West affair on the Pacific coast probably has netted him an annual remuneration for his services, but I am assured he is willing to forego the extra money because of a personal peeve precipitated by his disgust with the manner in which the East team was directed during the fray with the West.

ONE of Hanley's pet plays is the forward-back pass—his Wildcats used it against the Cornhuskers in the opening encounter of 1931—and he drilled the East squad to uncork it against the West during the game in San Francisco.

But the business of drilling a team in the use of a play and getting the quarterback to spring it during a game is something else again. Hanley discovered that to his sorrow at San Francisco.

I have been told that the East worked the forward-back pass for one gain of 50 or more yards and Sir Richard was gleeful, but his joy turned to deep chagrin when the East's quarterback suddenly eliminated the play in question from his repertoire. In short, Hanley sat on the bench, burning up from disappointment over the failure of the East to make the most of its instructions.

Loss of the game made it three straight defeats for the East in the charity series—a bitter blow to the Hanley pride and prestige. So it is that the folks in Frisco may jump in the bay so far as Sir Richard is concerned. The Big Ten rule means nothing to him now. He had chucked the East-West game for good, rule or no rule.

CORNHUSKER followers are well acquainted with the forward-back pass play. Dana Bible's Nebraska teams have been using it for some time, but it was not until last fall that they ironed out the mechanics of the play and attained thrilling results in yards gained in the direction of an opposing goal.

I recall one Nebraska game in which the Huskers pulled the forward-back racket on two successive plays, accounting for more than 60 yards.

Against Kansas, they worked it again, even though the Jayhawkers had been drilled to stop it, and Bernie Masterson, taking the back pass, following a forward to an end, sneaked down the field to Nebraska's second touchdown, the play accounting for something like 40 yards.

It is the belief of Dana Bible of Nebraska, Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech and other prominent coaches that the rules of football need no tinkering in order to add substantially to the offensive possibilities. Coaches, they contend, merely need to take full advantage of the forward-back and the back pass behind the line of scrimmage permitted by the present statutes. In doing so, substantial gains, many of them spectacular, would result.

IOWA'S coaching worries are over. The press wires relate that Ossie Solem, who was reputed to have been flirting with Yale no longer than 10 days ago, has come to an agreement with Hawkeye authorities and signed a contract covering a period of four years. His compensation, although not made public by the Iowa board of control, is said to have been fixed at $8,500 per year.

Athletics at Iowa U. has come a long way forward since the installation of Ossie Solem as head football coach the fall of 1932. The former Drake mentor struggled through a dreary year, as his charges failed to make a single winning gesture in Big Ten circles, but he was building slowly and making definite progress, for the Hawkeyes came to the front last fall with a surprising burst of speed and spirit, the record for 1933 crediting Iowa with three victories in five conference contests and a place in the first division when the final reckoning was compiled.

Financially, the Iowa athletic department is vastly better off than a year ago. Stadium and fieldhouse bonds could not be met when due and interest payments also were in default, while salaries to members of the coaching staff were several months delinquent. But football of 1933 prospered and basketball income has picked up amazingly, to the end that the Hawkeye management is catching up all along the line and sticking out its chest. Ossie Solem is entitled to much of the credit for the general improvement at the Iowa City institution. His leadership is the Hawkeyes' finest athletic asset and his services at $8,500 per are cheap at the price.

BARGAIN PRICES FOR TILDEN SHOW

Lincoln Reservations At $1.10; Other Cities Paying $3.30.

The scale of admissions for the all-star tennis show at the University of Nebraska coliseum, Monday, Feb. 5, will assure tennis fans of Nebraska the greatest bargain of the present tour by the Big Bill Tilden troupe.

John K. Selleck, University of Nebraska business manager of athletics, who is receiving mail reservations, announced Wednesday that reserved seats assuring choice coliseum locations would be priced at $1.10. Grand Island fans today ordered a block of 25 reserved seats.

Sets Record In Tennis.

The tennis troupe includes Big Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines, Vincent Richards and Bruce Barnes and represents the greatest collection of racquet stars ever assembled under one tent. The show in Denver, Colo., Tuesday night played to a good crowd which paid a price scale ranging from $1.10 to $3.30, the price which governed all of the Tilden troupe's performances in the large eastern cities.

NORFOLK RALLIES TO DEFEAT TILDEN

NORFOLK, Neb., Jan. 24—Norfolk high put on a sensational rally last night to beat Tilden, 31-27, in an extra period game. With two minutes left, Coach Pat Panek's boys tossed four field goals and a free throw to knot the count and then scored two baskets in the extra period to win. It was first defeat in eight games for Tilden.

Concordia College Dated Play Hebron

HEBRON, Neb., Jan. 24—Hebron Junior college will engage Concordia college of Seward here Friday night. Hebron won a pair of games from McCook Junior on the latter's court last week-end, 34-29 and 44-36.

GOLFERS FAVOR KOONTZ AS PRO

Urge His Appointment as Pro at Antelope and Pioneer Courses.

Petitions urging the appointment of Charles Koontz, professional at the Shrine club for several years, as golf pro for the municipal courses during the coming summer, were filed with City Clerk Berg Wednesday.

They were directed to the city council and contained the signatures of nearly 300, most of whom play on the Antelope park and Pioneers courses. According to the petitions, the employment of Koontz, would be a stimulus to municipal golf.

Mulqueeney's Salary.

Frank Mulqueeney, 1933 pro, at a salary of $900 from Feb. 1 to Nov. 15, has been tentatively employed for the coming season, according to L. C. Oberlies, head of the park department, of which golf is a part. In adidtion to his salary, Mulqueeney was allowed to teach at a fee fixed by the contract.

At the city hall today it was said there is some doubt that the council will pay a golf pro this year, because of objections by a considerable number of players who assert that the money should be used for development or maintenance of the courses. If a pro is used, they declare he should be willing to accept the post for the privilege of teaching, and the golf ball and clubs concession. Commissioner Oberlies has announced, however, that the concession will be taken over this year by the park department.

PESEK TAKES ON FORMER GRIDDER

Tigerman From Ravenna Booked Tangle Tonight With Metheny.

John Pesek, Ravenna, Neb., heavyweight, will pit his strength and skill against Harold Metheny, former St. Louis university gridder, in the main event of the National Guard wrestling show at the Marigold auditorium Wednesday night. The first prelim is scheduled for 8:30.

The supporting cast includes a semi-final between Big Joe Zikmund, the wrestling mayor of Brainard, and Cowboy Turk Jackson, the Tulsa, Okla., rough and tumble artist. Two local grapplers, Johnny Reigert and Jake Weigant, will tangle in the preliminary.

Pesek Going East.

Pesek, who had little difficulty defeating Olsen, Thornton, Koverly, Burns and Gostovich in his previous appearances here, leaves soon for an extended tour of the eastern states.

Metheny, a 210-pounder, who lettered at tackle and fullback at St. Louis U., has been in the mat game three years. Cowboy Jackson and Jake Weigant are the other newcomers on the bill, although the latter has been wrestling as an amateur here for several years, competing in the 165-pound division. Adam Krieger will referee all three bouts.

FREMONT GIRLS PLAY LOCAL FIVE

The Fremont Orioles and Lincoln Sports girls basketball team will meet tonight at the Sacred Heart gymnasium, Thirty-first and T streets. The game is called for 8 o'clock.

Mudecas Tourney On Book This Week

The Mudecas tournament, which will be played at Adams this week-end, tops the Thursday basketball card in Nebraska high school circles. Adams is a favorite to cop the class A competition with Bennet, Burchard and Rokeby figured to provide the main opposition. The Thursday program:

Class A—8 p. m., Bennet vs. Sprague-Martel 9 p. m. Rokeby vs. Hickman. Burchard, Adams drew byes.

Class B—6 p. m., Lewiston vs. Dubois. 7 p. m., Cortland vs. Filley. Hallam, Sterling drew byes.

Class C—5 p. m., Vesta vs. Douglas. Firth, Cheney, Palmyra drew byes.

Benson Plays Central.

Benson high in the Omaha circle meets Central with a good chance to improve its margin in holding second position in the Inter-city league race.

Coach Everett Kreizinger's Broken Bow five, revived by victories over Cozad and Arnold, will entertain Ord, a leader in Loup Valley circles. Dawson at Salem is the main attraction in the southeast.

Knuckle Fest Prelude to Pitting the Victor Against McLarnin

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—(INS)—Without benefit of the bluster and blarney that go with a championship, Barney Ross, the lightweight champion, and Billy Petrolle, the old donkey-engine from Fargo, will go 10 rounds of strictly a non-title nature at the New York coliseum tonight before a crowded house. Crowded houses now happen around here with disconcerting infrequency. In fact, the only one that New York boxing has hitherto known about for the last few years is the county jail. But that was before the "boxing war" started.

Promoters at War.

The Ross-Petrolle fight tonight will be only the opening gun of hostilities. The real broadside will be fired when James Archibald McLarnin comes in here to fight the winner for the welterweight championship of the world. By that time, Madison Square Garden might be tottering on its pedestal, if it had a pedestal. It's only been using the one it had for a footrest, anyhow.

Meantime, Ross and Petrolle, who weren't wanted at the Garden, will play tonight to $30,000, which is doing it the difficult way. The fight will be held so far up in the Bronx that Petrolle is liable to exceed the age limit before he gets there.

Puffs On the Grades.

The "Old Limited" has been running behind time for the last year or two and he plods and puffs a little on the grades now. But he's coming in at 142 pounds, as against the haggard 138 he had to do for Ross in Chicago last year, and maybe he has a real chance. But the odds of seven to five say he hasn't, it being figured that the five extra pounds he'll "pull" on the scales are as nothing compared to the weight of extra years.

However, he's only 28 and he still thinks he can lick McLarnin if he can ever hit him again, which only goes to show what delusions will do to an otherwise sensible man. He'll never clip McLarnin again; he won't even get close enough to hit him a loud punch.

Ross, having beaten Canzoneri twice, naturally wants to go into the class above because its champion is a man who puts everybody in the money. He also leaves then on the floor and his specialty is lightweights of Jewish extraction.

However, everybody to their own taste. Ross thinks he can beat McLarnin; so does Petrolle and they're going in there tonight with the idea of proving who's the right man for the job. Personally, I think they're both wrong.

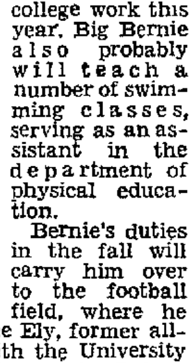
Masterson and Sauer Added to Nebraska's Tutors in Athletics

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

George Sauer, Nebraska's All-American back, and Bernie Masterson, a leading quarterback in 1933 intercollegiate circles, will be members of the Cornhusker coaching staff next year. Appointment of Masterson and Sauer as student assistant coaches was announced today by Dana X. Bible, athletic director and head football coach. Sauer and Masterson, in addition to their coaching duties, will carry on their scholastic activities, each looking toward obtaining an advanced degree.

Sauer With Ed Weir.

Present plans call for Sauer to work with the football freshmen, assisting Head Freshman Coach Ed Weir during the 1934 season, working under the direction of Coach W. H. Browne during the basketball months and under the eye of H. F. Schulte, head track coach, during the spring.

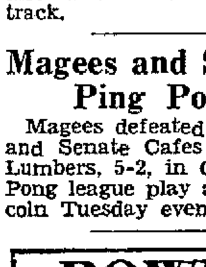


BERNIE MASTERSON.

Addition of Sauer to the staff gives the university a particularly attractive freshman coaching combination of two all-America selections—Ed Weir in the line and Sauer in the backfield. Sauer replaces Chris Mathis, former Husker midget back, who has accepted a position with an eastern tire concern.

Bernie In Charge Swimmers.

Masterson, a Big Six swimming champion and record-holder in the sprint events, will serve as head swimming coach, Kenneth Sutherland, the present tank tutor, finishing his college work this year. Big Bernie also probably will teach a number of swimming classes, serving as an assistant in the department of physical education.



GEORGE SAUER.

Bernie's duties in the fall will carry him over to the football field, where he will assist Lawrence Ely, former all-America center, with the University of Nebraska "B" squad. Robert "Red" Young, who has directed the "B" gridders for several seasons, is finishing his law course this year and expects to hang out his shingle.

The remainder of the varsity staff is expected to be the same as last season, with Harold Petz in charge of intramurals, including freshman football and basketball leagues. Petz also will assist Coach Schulte in track.

Three-Cushion Title To Japanese Cueist

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24—(INS)—Kinrey Matsuyama, the New York Japanese, today is the new wearer of the national three-cushion billiard crown.

The Japanese clinched the title last night by defeating the 71-year-old Cuban, Alfredo De Oro of New York, 50 to 31, in 42 innings. Matsuyama had a high run of seven, a five and three clusters of four.

His victory put De Oro back into a tie for third place with Art Woods of New York, behind Len Kenney of Chicago and Charles McCourt of Cleveland, who will play off their second place tie today.

LINCOLN PICKS ON GENEVA HI

Red and Black Cagesters Pile Up Victory By 36-14 Margin.

GENEVA, Neb., Jan. 24—(Special)—Blazing a victory path through Eastern Nebraska prep circles Lincoln high's well-oiled basketball machine left the conquest of Geneva in its unbeaten wake after smothering the Wildcats 36-14, here last night.

The lengthy Red and Black center, Dick Bradley, discovered the key which unlocked Geneva's defense early in the game and the Ballermen cracked through for 17 points in the first half, while holding their hosts to five points. Bradley and his mates maintained their offensive pace in the final half. With two minutes of play remaining, Coach Baller vacated the substitute bench of its eight warmers.

Bradley's brilliant goal shooting was the outstanding feature of the tussle, the Capital City scoring ace contributing 15 points to the total, with Marvin Plock and Bob Parsons both accounting for six. McBeth was Geneva's main threat with three baskets. The score:

League Basketball.

CHURCH LEAGUE.

Westminster featured Tuesday night's play in the revamped class B church league at Plymouth church by walloping Grace Lutheran, 31-11. Epworth M. E. outscored Second Baptist, 15-11, and Second Presbyterian downed First Lutheran, 17-14. East Lincoln Christian upset Warren, 38-26.

Games in class A, division two, are on the program for Wednesday night, with four games at Jackson high, starting at 7:15.

METROPOLITAN LEAGUE.

Two of the three previously undefeated cage outfits in the Metropolitan league fell by the wayside Tuesday night at the "Y," while Chris Beck's appeared to be the City Club's most formidable challenger for the title. The Beck's downed Master Painters, one of the leaders 28-10, while the City Club tripped up Miller & Paine, 33-2. Dan's Coffee Shop of Milford broke into the win column by splattering Mozers, the other defeated leader, to the tune of 18-7. Iowa-Nebraska Power defeated Elmwood, 24-13, in the other game.

Magees and Senates Ping Pong Winners

Magees defeated Newspapers, 6-1, and Senate Cafes won from Meek Lumbers, 5-2, in Capital City Ping Pong league play at the Hotel Lincoln Tuesday evening.

BOWLING

GREATER LINCOLN LEAGUE.

Liberty Life, Harbert's Hamburgers, Gridiron Club and Chris Becks won two out of three from M. J. That code the bankers fixed up wasn't perfect anyway. They forgot to charge for using the spittoon.

How One Man Lost 22 Pounds

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer. My first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all of the aches and swellings out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now feel like a new man."

To lose fat safely and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—an 85c bottle lasts 4 weeks—Get it at Harley Drug Co. or any drug store in America.

If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.—Advertisement.

RURAL CWA MEN GET MORE HOURS

24 Hour Scale Extended Outside Cities In Three Counties.

Men employed on civil works projects in Lancaster, Douglas and Hall counties, outside the cities of Lincoln, Omaha, and Grand Island, will be permitted to work 24 hours per week, the same as in the cities, under a modified regulation promulgated by Federal Agent Haynes in charge of federal activities in Nebraska.

The original order about a week ago specified that in rural areas and small towns the hours per week would be cut from 30 to 15, while in the cities the limit would be 24 hours a week. Now the workers on outside projects in the three counties named, many of whom live in the cities, are placed in the 24-hour class.

For common labor jobs, this means $4.50 more wages per week, while skilled men will receive $10.80 more than if they had remained on the 15-hour schedule.

More Dog Licenses Bought This Year

Seventy more dog licenses had been issued by the humane society up to Wednesday, than during the same period in 1933, according to Mrs. Nita Paul, secretary, the total this year being 443. The increase is attributed to the CWA, since many who did not have the money a year ago have been working this year, it is contended, and one of the first things they do is buy their dog licenses.

Corn-Hog Supervisors Favor Small Fees For Duplicate Sales Slips

Reports of varying charges made farmers for obtaining duplicates of old swine sales slips were discussed at a closing session Tuesday evening of a conference of state corn-hog supervisors at the college of agriculture.

Handlers of market hogs, either at the central market or outstate, who are making only a nominal charge for supplying duplicate sales tickets are to be commended, the state committee declared. Individuals and organizations charging up to a dollar or more per ticket are hurting their own business future, it was believed by members of the committee.

In many cases it is necessary to thumb through several pages of records over the last two year period, and it is only reasonable that the commission firm, sales ring manager or other hog buyers be paid a small amount for the sales ticket, it was said. Some hog buyers have had to add an employe to their force to care for requests of their past customers.

Reports have been received by the state committee of a few instances where school district officials wanted to charge for the use of school buildings for local meetings. The committee members pointed out the corn-hog program will bring cash money into the community and some of it will pay taxes for support of the schools.

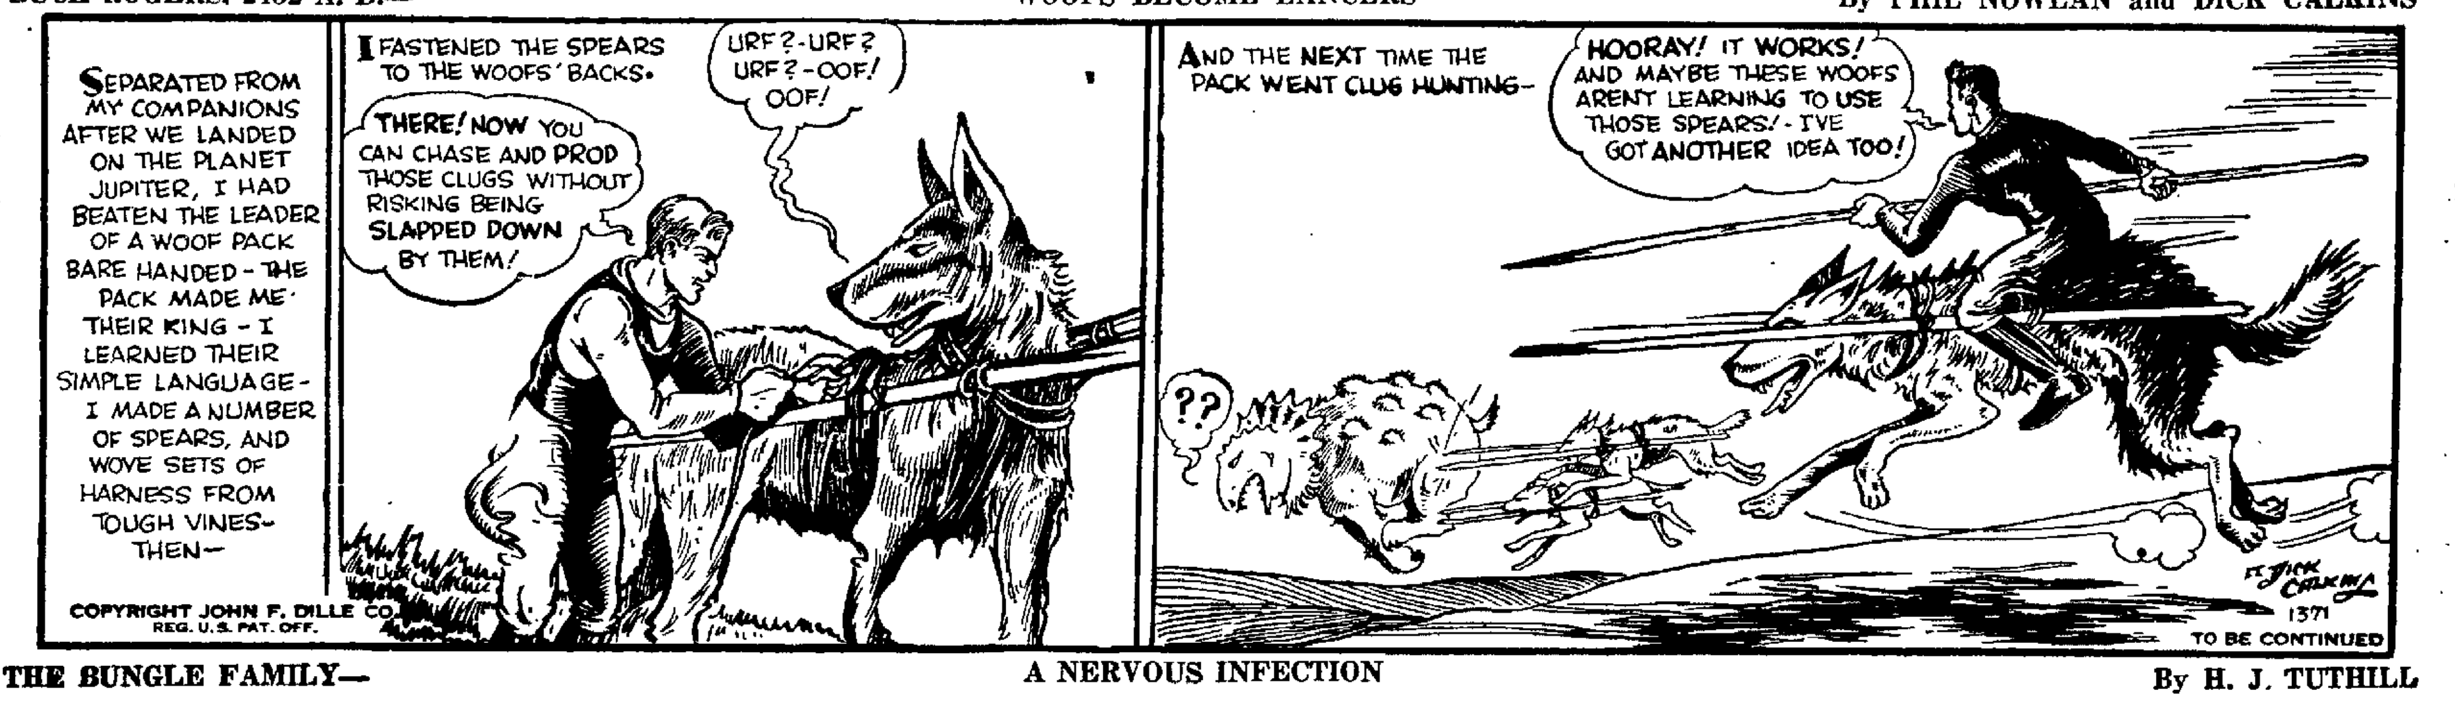
BUCK ROGERS, 2432 A. D.— WOOFS BECOME LANCERS By PHIL NOWLAN and DICK CALKINS



SEPARATED FROM MY COMPANIONS AFTER WE LANDED ON THE PLANET JUPITER, I HAD BEATEN THE LEADER OF A WOOF PACK BARE HANDED - THE PACK MADE ME THEIR KING - I LEARNED THEIR SIMPLE LANGUAGE - I MADE A NUMBER OF SPEARS, AND WOVE SETS OF HARNESS FROM TOUGH VINES - THEN—
COPYRIGHT JOHN F. DILLE CO. REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
I FASTENED THE SPEARS TO THE WOOFS' BACKS.
THERE! NOW YOU CAN CHASE AND PROD THOSE CLUGS WITHOUT RISKING BEING SLAPPED DOWN BY THEM!
URF?-URF? URF?-OOF! OOF!
AND THE NEXT TIME THE PACK WENT CLUG HUNTING—
HOORAY! IT WORKS! AND MAYBE THESE WOOFS AREN'T LEARNING TO USE THOSE SPEARS! - I'VE GOT ANOTHER IDEA TOO!

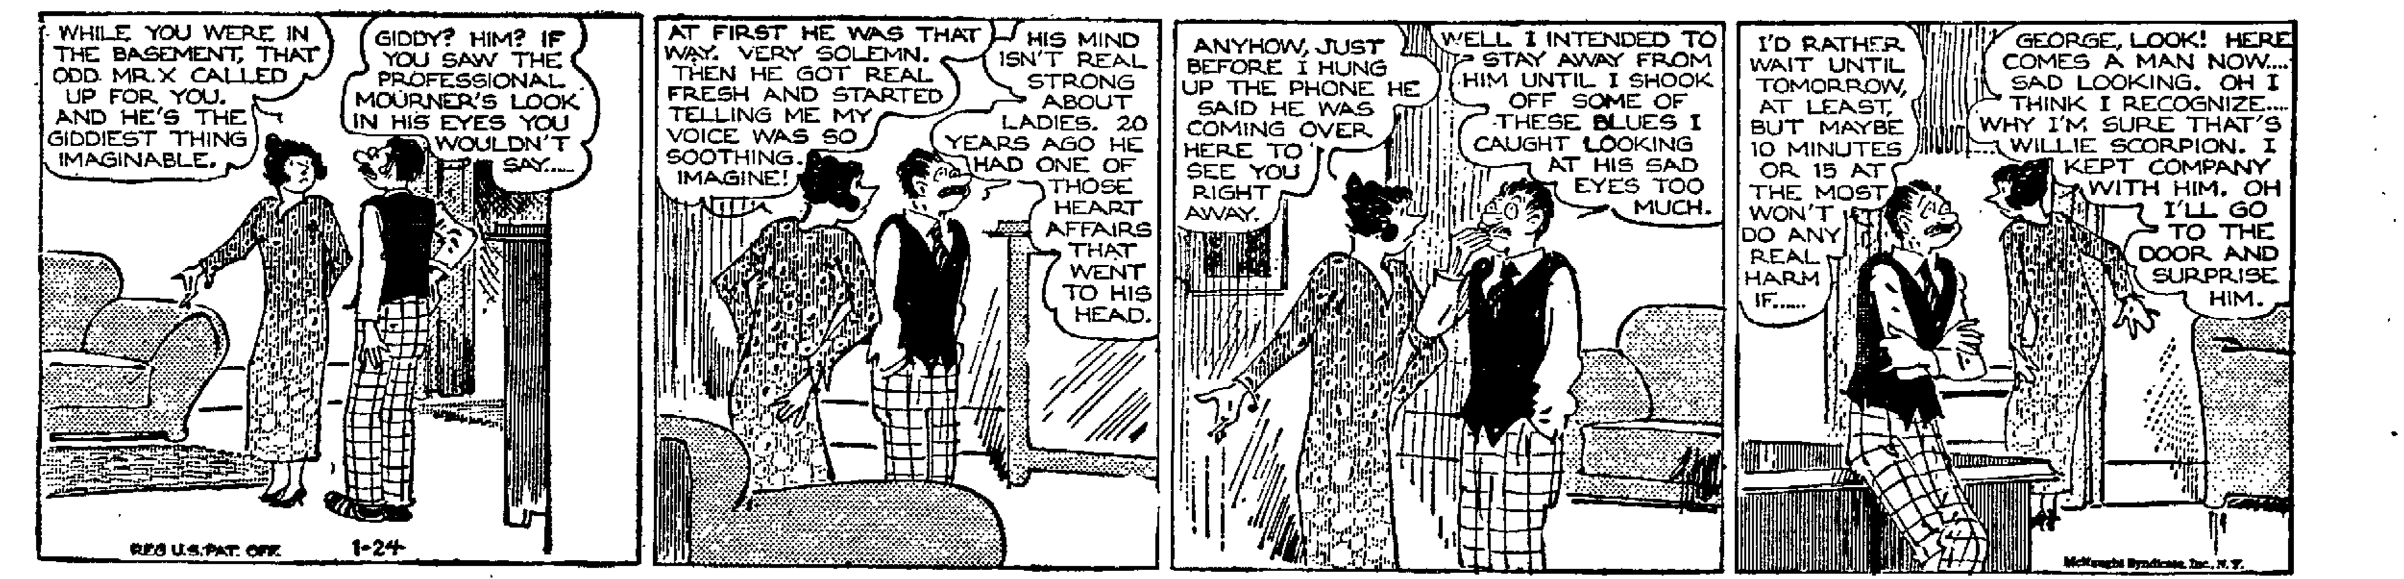
THE BUNGLE FAMILY— A NERVOUS INFECTION By H. J. TUTHILL



WHILE YOU WERE IN THE BASEMENT, THAT ODD MR. X CALLED UP FOR YOU. AND HE'S THE GIDDIEST THING IMAGINABLE.
GIDDY? HIM? IF YOU SAW THE PROFESSIONAL MOURNER'S LOOK IN HIS EYES YOU WOULDN'T SAY.....
REG U.S. PAT. OFF. 1-24
AT FIRST HE WAS THAT WAY. VERY SOLEMN. THEN HE GOT REAL FRESH AND STARTED TELLING ME MY VOICE WAS SO SOOTHING. IMAGINE!
HIS MIND ISN'T REAL STRONG ABOUT LADIES. 20 YEARS AGO HE HAD ONE OF THOSE HEART AFFAIRS THAT WENT TO HIS HEAD.
ANYHOW, JUST BEFORE I HUNG UP THE PHONE HE SAID HE WAS COMING OVER HERE TO SEE YOU RIGHT AWAY.
WELL, I INTENDED TO STAY AWAY FROM HIM UNTIL I SHOOK OFF SOME OF THESE BLUES I CAUGHT LOOKING AT HIS SAD EYES TOO MUCH.
I'D RATHER WAIT UNTIL TOMORROW, AT LEAST. BUT MAYBE 10 MINUTES OR 15 AT THE MOST WON'T DO ANY REAL HARM IF.....
GEORGE, LOOK! HERE COMES A MAN NOW.... SAD LOOKING. OH I THINK I RECOGNIZE.... WHY I'M SURE THAT'S WILLIE SCORPION. I KEPT COMPANY WITH HIM. OH I'LL GO TO THE DOOR AND SURPRISE HIM.

Moderate Gains Predominate As Stocks Are Turned Over In Large Volume Under Profit Taking

Exchange Closing Tone Is Steady

Prices Taper Last Half-Hour; Realizing Well Absorbed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—(AP)—Stocks were turned over in large volume today under profit taking and accumulating flurries. While gains predominated during most of the session, most of these were moderate. Prices tapered in the last half-hour, but there was no pronounced pressure apparent and realizing was well absorbed. The close was steady. Transfers approximated 3,300,000 shares.

Stocks again basked under bright skies today and prices generally looked toward higher levels.

Trading activity in equities expanded considerably under a renewed demand for those equities which are supposed to benefit by dollar devaluation, government spending and the recovery of business and industry over a broad front. While gains were moderate in most cases, and profit taking was evident in several groups, the undertone was firm throughout the early hours during which the ticker tape frequently lagged behind floor transactions.

The dollar showed no erratic inclinations in foreign exchange dealings. Grains, cotton and other commodities also usually followed a narrow groove. Bonds were fairly steady, the government's billion-dollar financing terms being in line with expectations.

Rails showed the favorites in share trading, such issues as Santa Fe, New York Central, Norfolk & Western and Delaware & Hudson getting up 1 to more than 2 points. Industrial Rayon advanced 3, while Johns-Manville, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Liggett & Myers and a number of others were up 1 or more. The metals and alcohols were somewhat diffident and the utilities just about held their own.

Gains in the carriers were attributed partly to optimistic traffic and earnings reports as well as to the fact that investment commentators have called attention to the backwardness of this division as compared with some of the others.

Wall street opinion continued optimistic but cautious. The feeling was general that the near-future equities market might be a much more selective one than recently. Various chartists, quite bearish not so long ago, seemed to have reversed their position and to have found that the mysterious ragged lines were on the upward move. At the same time, it was pointed out, scores of issues are selling very high if considered on a current or near-term earnings basis.

The new treasury financing, comprised of familiar certificates and notes to be offered through usual channels, is expected to find the investment market receptive, and bankers assume that a substantial oversubscription is assured. The 1½ per cent interest rate on the September 15 certificate maturity is closely in line with comparable issues floated in recent months, while the 2½ per cent notes due March 15, 1935 is regarded at attractive.

Business news of the day included the "Iron Age" estimate on steel production, 32 per cent this week, off a point. Buying by the automotive, railroad and construction industry customers of the steel manufacturers has not yet come up to expectations. The review thought prospective purchases of rails would be considerably smaller than had been anticipated.

Electric Power production last week was slightly under the week before. Its gain over a year ago was 9.5 per cent compared with 10.1 per cent in the preceding week.

Sterling opened here at $5.00¾, up ¾ cent, and French francs at 6.38½ cents, up .02 cent.

Omaha Produce.

OMAHA, Jan. 24—(AP)—Country produce, except poultry, lacked strength on the local produce market today. Butter and butterfat were weak and unchanged and eggs worked lower as the season for storing eggs approached. Poultry, however, held steady in view of light receipts from the country.

POULTRY—No. 1 poultry delivered in Omaha: Native springs, 8@9c per lb.; stags, 6@7c; capons, 9 pounds and over, 13@14c; under 9 pounds, 7@10c; Leghorn springs, 6@7c; old roosters, 5@6c; native hens, 8@9c; light hens, 7½c; leghorn hens, 7c; geese, 5@6c; turkeys, basis, 12@13c per pound for young toms. Small premiums are paid for extra choice poultry.

EGGS—Fresh eggs, delivered in Omaha, current receipts, on loss-off basis, 55-lbs., $4.50@4.75 per case; in used cases 25c less; graded basis extras, 18c dozen; standards, 10@11c; dozen; undergrades, 8@9c per dozen; loose eggs, that is, without cases, mostly ½c per dozen less. Buyers pay a fair premium for specials, commonly known as hennery eggs, strictly fresh, large and uniform in size and color.

BUTTERFAT—No. 1 cream, delivered at receiving doors in Omaha, 17c; at country stations, 16c; direct shipper price, track, 15c; No. 2 cream, 2c less.

BUTTER—Dairy, fresh fancy rolls, 11@12c per pound; packing stock, 8@9c per pound. Creamery—Quotations to retailers: Extras, 1-lb. cartons, solid, 22c; "best" butter, 1-lb. cartons, solid, 21c; ditto in 60-pound tubs, 20½c; good butter, 1-lb. cartons solid 20c; quarters ½c more; sweet butter 2c more than salted.

FRESH MILK—Fresh milk testing 3-5 per cent butterfat delivered, $1.55 per hundredweight. This is the basic rate on which most large dairies contract for milk for bottle trade; variation to each point of butterfat. Milk over and above that needed for bottle trade, known as surplus milk and used for industrial purposes, is bought at discount from the basic price.

GREEN VEGETABLES—Prices to retail dealers: No. 1 stock, f. o. b. Omaha: Potatoes—Nebraska Ohios, $1.65; triumphs, cobblers, $1.75 cwt.; Minnesota cobblers, Ohios, $1.85 cwt.; Colorado McClures, $2.15 cwt.; Idaho russets, $2.15 cwt.; rural, $1.90 cwt.; sweet potatoes, $1.50@1.75 bushel basket. Cauliflower, $1.75 crate. Dry onions, white, $2.50 per 50-pound bag; yellow, $2; red, $2; new cabbage, $1.75 per sack. Tomatoes, $3.25 per lug; cucumbers, hothouse, $2 dozen. Celery, rough, $3.25 per crate; pascal celery, market. Washed turnips, beets, carrots, 35c market basket; parsnips, 45c market basket. Rutabagas, 50-pound bag, $1; new acrrots, $3 crate; head lettuce, $3.50 crate; other vegetables at market price.

Wheat Is Lifted In Late Trading

Chicago Market Closes Steady at Same as Tuesday Finish.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 24—(AP)—Eastern buying lifted the wheat market late today, and earlier fractional declines in prices were about counterbalanced.

Advances of wheat values, however, at no time were of a striking character. Taken as a whole, the day's transactions lacked volume, and observers said changes in quotations represented a dearth of aggressive action on either side, rather than anything else.

Wheat closed at the same as yesterday's finish, May 90¼@⅜c, July 88⅞@¾c. Corn unchanged to ⅜ cent off, May 52⅝@¾c, July 54½c. Oats also unchanged to ⅜ cent off, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents decline.

Despite strength shown by securities and notwithstanding forecasts of a cold wave, grain prices averaged lower early today. Scattered selling developed, influenced apparently by easiness of wheat quotations at Liverpool. Opening at ½ cent decline to ⅜ cent advance, wheat later sagged all around. Corn started ⅜ cent off to ⅛ cent up, and subsequently altered little.

Indications that the spread of the cold wave into winter wheat territory would be preceded by snow protection failed to diminish fears of crop damage from low temperatures. On the other hand, crop experts continued to emphasize great deficiency of subsoil moisture in the southwest. It was asserted this deficiency must be made good by extra heavy moisture falls before coming of hot weather in mid May, when wheat southwest would be in its heavy growing stage, and would require ten times more moisture daily than now.

Only a moderate trade prevailed in wheat, and price rallies were not impressive. Some commission houses were fairly active buyers at times, but the effects were counterbalanced through intermittent selling pressure from various local operators. This resulted in the wheat market holding as a rule within narrow fractional limits and for the most part a little under yesterday's finish. Corn and oats paralleled the course of wheat.

Provisions were easy, influenced by downturns of hog values.

About mid-session wheat and corn were each ⅛ to ⅜ cent under yesterday's close.

Corn receipts in Chicago today totaled 77 cars, a week ago 91, and a year ago 63.

Outside markets are continuing to overbid Chicago for corn in Chicago territory. The spread is increasing, with Peoria reported bidding 1¼ to 1½ cents over Chicago in central Illinois.

Corn futures held within a range of around ½ cent. May corn was wanted at 52½ cents on resting orders, a circumstance which had a tendency to limit declines. Country offerings of cash corn to arrive remain small and shipping demand was only fair. The cold wave which is developing is expected to increase feeding operations to some extent. No rain was reported in Argentina.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—(AP)—The U. S. government section of the bond market was quiet today in the face of the treasury's announcement of a billion dollar offering of notes and certificates of indebtedness. Prices of the long term Treasury issues varied but slightly, although some of the changes were downward to the extent of 1-32s to 4-32s of a point.

Terms of the offering which had been a subject of much conjecture, were viewed in banking quarters as sufficiently attractive to investors to warrant belief that the offering would be heavily oversubscribed. The amount of the issue was somewhat in line with expectations.

In place of the reactionary trend which was fairly general yesterday in secondary groups, the action of most of the semi-speculative classifications indicated some revival of buying interest to the accompaniment of a satisfactory tone in stocks. Prime corporate bonds continued to find good support.

Improvement running to a point or so was shown during the early trading in such issues as Chicago & Northwestern 4¾s, Erie 5s, Illinois Central 4¾s, New York Central 5s, Pennsylvania general 4½s, Southern Railway 4s, Detroit Edison 4½s, International Telephone convertibles, United Drug 5s, Warner Bros. 6s, Youngstown Sheet & Tube 5s and others.

Moderate offerings depressed Chile Copper 5s 1½ points but most other issues on the declining side gave up only fractions.

The foreign list exhibited general steadiness. French, Brazilian and Canadian issues were moderate gainers.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—(AP)—The curb traveled at a brisk pace today and had a firm tone. Profit taking sales appeared in some volume, but on the whole the list had littel difficulty absorbing such offerings and the trend was upward.

Gold Mining issues softened a bit. Oils, however, again came forward with a rally and there was a good demand for utilities. Industrials showed spottiness at times, though advances predominated.

Mead Johnson and Sherwin Williams made progress. Gulf Oil, Newmont Mining, Parker Rust, New Jersey Zinc, Distillers-Seagrams, Swift & Co., Pan-American Airways, Standard Oil of Indiana Walgreen and Humble were among the gainers of fractions to a point. Aluminum of America lagged in the earlier dealings. Lake Shore Mines dipped a point. Creole Petroleum was active and narrow. American Cyanamid "B" turned over in good volume but had small changes.

Sentiment in brokerage houses seemed bullish, particularly because of the market's recent ability to take up selling without important reaction. Many traders have been looking for a setback, but its continued absence has presumably been drawing fresh support to the long side.

GRAIN NOTES

CHICAGO, Jan. 24—(AP)—The trade received a report that between 30,000 and 40,000 barrels of Pacific coast flour had been sold to Memphis and Nashville on an all-star basis, indicating traders said that north Pacific coast wheat market was out of line with prices in the middle-west.

The Farmers' National Grain corporation was said to be clearing its trades, causing an increase of nearly 7,000,000 bushels in the open interest in wheat futures and nearly 2,000,000 bushels of corn on the Chicago board of trade Monday. Heretofore, a considerable number of the trades had been carried by non-members of the clearing house.

Prices on the English market were depressed yesterday by the selling of wheat futures in Liverpool which were credited to Argentina. Traders predicted that Germany will soon enter the market to purchase Canadian wheat for mixing and other purposes.

Some of the slack was taken out of the pit the last two days by the steady purchase of May corn by a local commission house. No cash corn to arrive was offered by the country yesterday and local handlers did not report any purchases.

De Priest To Seek A Vote On Negro Ban

Negro Solon Irked As House Restaurant Bars Secretary.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—The lone negro member of the house — Representative Oscar De Priest, Illinois republican — served notice on the democratic majority today of an attempt to force a floor vote as to whether negroes should be barred from the house restaurant.

"I am going to see to it that negroes eat there, or we can close it," said the angered De Priest.

Replied Representative Warren, North Carolina democrat, who heads the committee in charge of the restaurant: "It has never served negro employes or visitors, nor will it so long as I have anything to do with it."

The squabble started yesterday when De Priest's secretary, Morris Lewis, went to the grill room of the restaurant, accompanied by a negro friend, and ordered food at the horseshoe counter.

Waiter Refuses to Serve Them.

A negro waiter refused to serve him. First the manager and then Representative Warren were called. Warren said he had given the order. De Priest immediately objected and declared later he would force a house vote on a privileged resolution to gain a decision.

"If the democrats are going to act that way toward the negroes," he said, "we might as well have a showdown now. It seems funny to me that a man with money to pay for his food, whether he be Jew, Gentile or Negro should be refused food in a public restaurant."

Warren maintained De Priest was privileged to eat there, but contended "if we let one negro employe eat in the restaurant, we'll have to let all of them."

CHARGE OF LOVE THEFT IS DENIED

CHICAGO, Jan. 24—(AP)— The little game of "I spy" is a two-way game, Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge demonstrated to the jury today as the final round was called in the $100,000 battle over Policeman Nottingham's love.

Spied upon by the wagon driver's wife, Susanne, as she kept midnight trysts with Nottingham, Mrs. Blacklidge came back to the witness stand today to tell of her own nocturnal stalking of the woman who demands a $100,000 settlement for alienation of affections.

"Were you ever near the Nottingham home?" the former internal revenue collector was asked.

"Yes, off and on since last August," Mrs. Blacklidge responded. "She was watching me, so I did some spying for myself."

Says She Saw Love Making.

On one occasion, the defendant related, she saw Mrs. Nottingham seated in a parked automobile with a man.

"She had her arms around him, and he had his about her," said Mrs. Blacklidge.

In defense of the love piracy charge, Mrs. Blacklidge is contending that she could not steal a love that did not exist between husband and wife. She intended to show by her testimony that Mrs. Nottingham had also been keeping company with others than her husband. Mrs. Nottingham, however, said she "wouldn't think of such a thing, being married."

Nottingham, summoned as a witness for Mrs. Blacklidge, was barred from the stand today.

Father Says God Will Heal Son; Refuses to Permit an Operation

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Jan. 24—(AP)—Another effort will be made by County Judge George L. Blum late today to persuade Lewis Velie, 36, a devout believer in divine healing, to permit an operation on his 4-year-old son, Raymond.

Raymond, suffering no pain, was in the Eau Claire hospital today scooting up and down a corridor in a wheel chair. But surgeons who have been studying X-ray pictures taken a week apart say an infection in a leg has progressed to the bone and that unless it is checked by an operation the boy will be crippled and his life endangered.

Velie said today he remains firm in his conviction that God will heal the boy if that is the divine will. His wife shares his confidence.

DIVIDENDS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24—(AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad today declared a dividend of 50 cents a share. In announcing the dividend the company said that "the net earnings in 1933 against which the dividend will be charged were equal to 2.9 per cent upon the capital stock."

Directors of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. today declared an extra dividend of $1 and the regular quarterly dividend of the same amount on the common and common "B" stocks, both payable March 1 to stock of record February 15. A year ago similar extras were paid.

ROOSEVELT IS READY TO ASK RELIEF FUNDS

$1,116,000,000 to Be Requested for CWA and Other Emergency Drives

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — (AP) — President Roosevelt today had before him for transmission to congress a $1,116,000,000 request for civil works and other emergency funds, the first of a series of recommendations due to track their way to Capitol hill.

Although forseeing some possibility of a congressional attempt to raise the $350,000,000 CWA ante, administration advisors believed late intimations from the president that this work would continue beyond May if there was sufficient need might quiet any major storm.

Also upon the president's desk, about ready for a ticket to congress, were formulated for permanent regution of the stock exchanges and the nation's communications systems.

A commerce department study on stock exchanges, handed to Mr. Roosevelt late yesterday, was stated authoritatively today to suggest no immediate drastic regulation, but rather that any wide effort to rearrange practices should move slowly.

Tariff and War Debts.

Watchful of the progress of congress, the chief executive also was known to be preparing, for early dispatch a message asking authority to deal with foreign nations on the tariff and war debts.

A couple of other bills for this session are in formulation. One would modify the new securities act to permit administrative changes regarded as required for the investment banking interest. The other would extend authority for loans to permit a widespread modernization of homes.

The emergency budget message in addition to asking CWA continuance through the spring until mid-April to May 1, requests $300,000,000 for a second year of the civilian conservation corps; and other amounts for direct federal relief.

The president and Harry L. Hopkins, civil works administrator, are standing hopefully for absorption of most of the 4,000,000 CWA workers into private industry by May 1, but labor leaders are convinced that if all are not taken up then, those remaining will be kept on the payroll.

670 MILLIONS TO POSTAL DIVISION

Treasury - Postoffice Supply Fund Cut 403 Millions From 1933.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—The house appropriations committee today recommended $820,693,270 for operating the treasury and postoffice departments during the next fiscal year, representing a $403,623,327 decrease from the current allotment and a $6,683,830 cut in the budget estimates.

The treasury was alloted $149,842,330 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and the postoffice department $670,850,940.

The committee alloted $14,000,000 for domestic air mail, $1,000,000 less than for this year; $37,500,000 for foreign air and ocean mail, or $800,000 less than for the current period. Of the latter, $7,000,000 is for foreign air mail.

Other allotments included $398,046,000, of which virtually all is for salaries of postmasters, letter carriers and other employes; $214,937,000 for subsidies to air, ocean mail, and railroad mail service, and $31,396,000 for postoffice building maintenance and repair.

Under the treasury the customs service was alloted $18,400,000; internal revenue service, $67,450,000; coast guard, $18,249,000, or $7,523,000 less than for the current year, due, the report said, to prohibition repeal; bureau of public health, $9,130,000; public works, $18,134,000.

Melvin Traylor's Condition Worse

CHICAGO, Jan. 24—(AP)—Melvin A. Traylor, 55, president of the First National bank, was reported by his physicians today to be losing his fight against pneumonia following an all-night vigil at his bedside by members of his family.

Mr. Traylor, who in 1932 was mentioned prominently as a candidate for the democratic nomination for presdient, was stricken a fortnight ago, but his condition did not become critical until last Monday when he was placed in an oxygen tent to ease his labored breathing.

Late last night Dr. N. Clarke Gilbert on a visit to the sickroom noted a decline and hurriedly summoned members of the family to the bedside where they remained.

Morgenthau Turns Down $8,000,000 Taxes From 'Reformed' Moonshiner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(AP)—The treasury was disclosed today to be determined that moonshiners shall not be stamped as legal merely by coming in and paying a tax, but in the words of Secretary Morgenthau it sometimes "makes me shed crocodile tears."

The treasury secretary, testifying before the house appropriations committee on the treasury-postoffice supply bill reported today, explained:

"Every day we are being approached by people who are manufacturing liquor illicitly and they want to come in under the law, but we will not have anything to do with them x x x.

"If we know that a man has been in the bootleg business and wants to come in now, we say, 'It is just too bad; we will not have anything to do with it. x x x

"It makes me shed crocodile tears to turn down a proposition like that one that we had the other day, where a man had 2,000,000 gallons of illicit alcohol that he would like to pay taxes on.

"But I figure, as you say, that there is a moral question involved, and I do not want to accept it. He does not approach me directly, but through a third party. I just feel, as a sworn officer of the government that I cannot do business with a man like that."

It was estimated that 2,000,000 gallons of alcohol of 200 proof would bring in $8,000,000 in revenue at $2 a 100 proof gallon.

STRIKE BECOMES TENSE IN WEST COAST DISTRICT

Officers Strive Preserve Order After Wholesale Abductions.

BRAWLEY, Cal., Jan. 24—(AP)—Two wholesale abductions strained relations today between vegetable field strikers and farmers of the rich Imperial valley of southern California.

Police, sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen guarded vantage points in an effort to preserve order.

Three lawyers and a woman were kidnaped from a crowded hotel lobby here last night and subsequently released in scattered nearby towns after one of them apparently had been beaten. A little [illegible] four asserted communists from San Diego were forcibly escorted from town with warnings not to return.

Trouble started when a group of unidentified men stalked into a crowded hotel lobby and made off with A. L. Wirin, representative of the American Civil Liberties union, shortly before he was to have spoken before 1,500 Mexican workers.

Woman Released.

Grover C. Johnson, San Bernardino lawyer; his wife, and David Sokol, Los Angeles barrister, were also taken by the band of men when they followed the group out of the lobby trying to release Wirin.

A short time later Sokol was found here. Mrs. Johnson was discovered in nearby Imperial. She said her husband had gone into hiding. Wirin, his face slightly cut and bruised, turned up several hours later at Calipatria, 15 miles away.

Sheriff George Campbell said immediate efforts would be made to apprehend those who molested the eight.

Brawley has been the center of a series of labor disputes in the vegetable fields for several weeks. Authorities have charged that communist agitators were responsible for the bad feeling in the vegetable fields, saying most laborers wanted to work but were frightened by threats.

NRA May Create Board on Behalf Of Small Business

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — (AP) — After a two-hour conference with Hugh S. Johnson today, Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, said the NRA administrator seemed ready to consider creation of a special board of outstanding citizens to which small manufacturers and business men may submit complaints against advantages allegedly accruing to the big businesses under the recovery act.

The conference followed several exchanges between the two over the senator's charge that the NRA was favoring large business at the expense of independents and consumers.

Johnson was accompanied to Nye's office by Donald R. Richberg, general counsel for the NRA, as he was yesterday in calling on Senators Norris, republican, Nebraska and La Follette, republican, Wisconsin.

FIGURES GIVEN ON TRI-COUNTY

Mickey Presents Additional Statistics To Federal Officials.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24— (AP) — Additional statistics on the proposed $44,000,000 Tri-county irrigation project in Nebraska were presented today to public works officials by Clarke E. Mickey, engineer for the district.

Mickey's report included a daily analysis of water discharge from the Keystone diversion on the North Platte river and diversion on the Platte at the point where water would be taken for the Tri-county project.

"While those and other figures prepared by us from state records indicate there is ample water for the Tri-county project," Mickey said, "it is up to the officials to determine whether there is enough for both the Tri-county and the Sutherland projects."

The engineer submitted an estimate of power which could have been produced by the Tri-county project, from 1922 to 1933, and later this week will complete a report on power markets in the area. Public works officials requested the latter information several weeks ago, when the project was first submitted here.

Four Boys Arrested In Bike Theft Ring

Police Lieutenant Elmer Beals in charge of the juvenile department, ran into what he termed a "bicycle theft ring" Wednesday morning when he arrested four lads of about twelve years of age in connection with a series of bicycle thefts which have been occurring in Lincoln during the past three weeks.

Ten bicycles, part of them dismantled, were recovered and taken to police headquarters. The youngsters will be turned over to juvenile authorities. They had been stripping the bikes and selling the parts, Lieutenant Beals said.

Minerva's Mail

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES TO MINERVA

Point of Satiety.

"I get so tired of being big, strong Edith, to whom everyone runs with their troubles; I yearn desperately for a little petting myself, but never get it."

With a sink filled with unwashed dishes and a basket stacked with unironed clothes, "Edith" sat down to pen her explosion to us. She is the mother of three children, and "a big, helpless husband," she writes. She married when young, one year's country school teaching being her only venture into the self-supporting field.

"Since I've been married, things and babies have happened fast, and here I am, still young and lively, good-fellow to everyone, with no one to be a good-fellow to me." she says.

What "Edith" needs, and probably won't get, is a good, long vacation. She should get away all by herself. At first she would be thrilled and luxuriate in hours of complete idleness. Particularly if she had a supply of becoming clothes with which to dramatize herself. Then, suddenly, she would be one big ache of homesickness. The days would be just so many hours to kill. She would find the strain of finding amusement and diversion for that usually-busy mind of hers, a tiring and monotonous experience.

The lesson she would, or should learn, would be two-fold. First, that it's pretty grand to be useful and needed, even though it doesn't leave much time for pampering of self. Or perhaps, because it doesn't leave much time for self. Second, that it is time to gradually but surely build up self interests outside the home. For some day those children will be grown-up. Then what?

Motherhood is a splendid vocation. But even this good thing can be over-done. When a mother reaches the point of satiety that "Edith" has reached, she needs to take a mental vacation, at any rate, to brush up on perspective and balance.

A Strange Interlude.

Dear Minerva: That dread specter, the other woman, has entered my home. I thought I was immune from this disturbance. My husband has always been so vociferous in his denouncements of men and women who "play around." He has even been a crank on the subject, seeing evil where none existed, in social flirtations which are found in the best and happiest of families. We are both from good families, have had excellent educations, and have clever children that we are very proud of. We are not wealthy, but we have been spared any grim financial worries.

But here it is. My husband has been seen lunching and dining with an attractive woman. Our own son ran into him one day at lunch. He mentioned vaguely that he was lunching with a client. But there is a lot of talk about it, they've been together so much. He has started staying out at night, a thing he never did before in our entire married life. Moreover, he has a furtive air around home, which is certainly a guilty conscience.

I'm told that the woman is a flashy, typically vamp sort, wearing dashing clothes and using her eyes conspicuously. One friend said her husband said she was a widow of means and an adventuress in financial fields, who came here last winter. Beyond that report, she is a mystery to everyone.

My mind is in a turmoil. I cannot ever feel the same toward my husband, if he is cheap enough to humiliate me in this way, and silly enough to be taken in by a woman like that. Yet there are the children to consider, and our relatives and our home. I always said I wouldn't be the jellyfish kind of wife that many are, and stand for such nonsense. Yet I'm even afraid to ask him about the gossip that's going the rounds. I want to make up my mind first what to do. Yet make up my mind is what I cannot do. So, I'm humbly asking your counsel—MARY.

A. I advise patience and self control. Don't jump at conclusions. Don't indict your husband on suspicion and rumor. And don't make hasty decisions as to drastic measures you will take if your husband is having a flirtation, or an affair, with this strange woman. Chances are he is not. But even if he is, you do not want to lose your head and thus complicate a situation which may otherwise prove to be a mere meaningless interlude.

Sometimes the strictest men have the silliest of flings. But a man with the ideas and ideals which your husband has always sponsored is not going to do anything very rash. He may be indiscreet. He may be momentarily infatuated. But his conscience and sense of decorum are going to win out in the end. This is saying nothing of his devotion to you and for his home and family. He is not going to junk all these for any passing fancy, even if such an aberration be very strong within for the moment.

Oh yes. I know it is hard to have your faith shaken in this way. It is hard not to be stubbornly proud and imperiously demand a dramatic show-down.

But it's a lot harder to give up all the things that you love, to break up yuor home and see the lives of your children changed, all when you are past your early youth. A broken home is a tragedy for children. It is very hard indeed for the woman. Your entire life is changed and it isn't easy to adapt yourself to a new life when you have been a mother and home-maker for many years.

Answered Briefly.

Tom: I'm glad your little story had a happy ending and am happy over the small part which I played in it. Thank you for telling me about it.

Rosalie: You are in a rut. No mistake about that. But you don't need to stay there. Invite your friends into your new home. What does it matter if it is humble and a drab contrast to the home you formerly had. Your situation is not an unusual one. Carry it off with an air of simple hospitality and gracious sincerity and your friends will love you for it.

Eunice: You feel that you should hate and despise the young man for the suggestions which he made. But you shouldn't. He made a mistake, but not one that was either vicious or beyond remedy. Don't try to hate him. Try to understand his viewpoint, and in turn make him understand yours.

St. Paul Evangelical Church Reports Balance

Theo H. Berg, John Naderhof and Peter Hansen Elected To Board.

A substantial treasury balance was reported at the annual congregational meeting of St. Paul Evangelical synod church Tuesday night, according to Rev. F. L. Rodenbeck, pastor. The refinancing committee's report on the church's bonded indebtednes was also gratifying, Rev. Rodenbeck said.

Three new board members were elected. They are Theo H. Berg, John Naderhof and Peter Hansen. The presidents of the various church organizations chosen are: Mrs. E. A. Schaus, ladies aid; Mrs. A. E. Rische, sewing circle; John Evers, young people's league; Karl Meyer, superintendent of the Sunday school.

August Brauer and Fred Ress were elected delegates to the special district conference at oehner early in May. This conference is preliminary to the national convention at Cleveland in June when the America Evangelical synod and Reformed churches will be combined. The Goehner conference will elect delegates to the national conveniton, Rev. Rodenbeck said.

The annual hurch banquet of St. Paul Evangelical will be held April 4.

BANKRUPTCY CASES.

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were filed against William J. Wakefield of Wahoo in Federal court by Leonard Bredenberg, Beranek & Leitheit and the Wahoo Produce company, all of Wahoo. They allege that the debts of Wakefield total more than $10,000. Bredenberg claims $44.49, Beranek & Heitheit claim $1,154.63 and Wahoo Produce company $1,306.20.

Famous Cough Prescription

A famous doctor wrote a prescription which he gave to hundreds of his patients suffering from Coughs and Sore Throats. It became so popular and was so highly successful that the doctor allowed his druggist to put it up under the name Thoxine and make it available to everyone at a small cost—so now you can get from any druggist for 35c what formerly cost $3.00. Millions of bottles have been sold. Demand Thoxine at your drug store.—Adv.
